

HOOVER SAYS U. S. CANNOT BE FORCED AS TO WAR DEBTS

Declares "American People Shall Not Be Pressed Into Any Line of Action" or Influenced by "Combined Action."

MAKES STATEMENT IN LETTER TO BORAH

Declares America Was Not Consulted on Lausanne Agreements and Is Not in Any Way Committed to Them.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 14.—President Hoover, in a letter to Senator Borah of Idaho said today he did not assume the agreements recently reached between European nations were for the purpose of affecting "combined action of our nations," but stated that, if this was the case, he did "not propose that the American people shall be pressed into any line of action."

The President's letter disclosed that Senator Borah had inquired of the President through Secretary of State Stimson, as to the effect in the United States of recent agreements in Europe.

In reply, Hoover affirmed that the United States had not been consulted regarding any of the agreements reached at the Lausanne conference.

He said the United States was not in any way committed to any such agreements, as were reached concerning either debts or reparations.

The President's letter follows in part:

"Dear Mr. Senator: I have your inquiry this morning, through Secretary Stimson, as to the effect on the United States of recent agreements in Europe.

"Our people are, of course, entitled to the settlement of the strictly European problem of reparations or any of the other political or economic questions that have impeded European recovery. Such action, to the extent of real progress in disarmament, will contribute greatly to world stability.

"I wish to make it absolutely clear, however, that the United States has not been consulted regarding any of the agreements reached by the press to have been concluded recently at Lausanne and that, of course, it is not a party to nor in any way committed to any such agreements."

While I do not assume it to be the purpose of any of these agreements to effect combined action of our nations, I do not suppose that the American people shall be pressed into any line of action or that our policies shall be in any way influenced by such a combination, either open or implied.

That Chamberlain Suggested U. S. Approve Pact.

LONDON, July 14.—A statement issued this evening by the Treasury office over which Neville Chamberlain presides as Chancellor of the Exchequer, denied that Chamberlain, in a statement to the House of Commons on Monday, suggested that representatives of the United States approved "either directly or indirectly, what was done at Lausanne."

The proceedings there were throughout on the basis that the course was to seek a European solution of reparations without involving the United States in the discussion."

$700,000 Rail Loan Authorized.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co. to borrow $700,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for "improvements to its road." The road Feb. 24 was granted a loan of $1,000,000 to pay freight charges, vouchers and bank loans.

Text of Lausanne Agreement Linking Reparations Cancellation With "Settlement" of War Debts

Initiated by France, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium, It Stipulates Terms of Ratification of Pact.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, July 14.—The text of the "gentlemen's agreement," entered into at Lausanne, was published today. It provides that the Lausanne reparations agreement shall not be ratified until each of the countries involved has obtained a satisfactory settlement with its creditors, chief among whom is the United States.

The agreement, initiated by France, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium, also provides that the Lausanne accord shall not definitely take effect until ratified as provided in the treaty itself.

The French Foreign Office also published the text of a letter received by Louis Germain-Martin, Minister of Finance, from Neville Chamberlain, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, indicating that Great Britain agrees to the suspension of payment by France of French war debt annuities until the Lausanne accord goes into force or until it has been decided not to ratify it. In the event it is not ratified, the letter proposes, Great Britain and France will examine the situation anew.

The text of the "gentlemen's agreement" follows:

"The Lausanne agreement will not definitely go into force until after the ratifications foreseen in those accords.

"Concerning the creditor governments in whose name this process-verbal is initiated, ratification will not be effected before a satisfactory settlement is obtained between them and their own creditors.

"They will have every liberty to explain their position to their respective parliaments, but no precise reference to the present arrangement will appear in the text of the accord with Germany.

"It follows that a satisfactory settlement of their own debts is obtained, the governments of the above-named creditor countries will proceed to ratification, and the accord with Germany will take its full effect.

"But in case the settlement in question cannot be obtained, the accord with Germany will not be ratified.

"New situation will thus be created and the interested governments will have to agree on what they should do.

"In this eventuality, the legal position of all the interested governments would become what it was before the Hoover moratorium.

"Notification of this accord will be made to the German Government.

"The agreement is dated, Lausanne, July 2.

ANOTHER KANSAS TOWN TO BE TAXLESS

Iola Has Lowest Rate in 73 Years Due to Owning Utilities.

By the Associated Press.
IOLA, Kan., July 14.—Iola citizens look forward with confidence to the free of municipal taxes by 1934.

If that goal is reached Iola will join Chanute and Colby, Kan., in being city tax free.

Iola recently ascertained that the tax levy of 7 1/2 mills for 1933, the lowest in 73 years, would yield less than one-third of the total money necessary for expenditures. The rest will be taken from a surplus created by earnings of municipally-owned gas, water and electric utilities.

City officials estimate that by 1934 the profits of these utilities will amortize Iola's indebtedness of $250,000, making a tax levy unnecessary in that year.

Mayor Harmon Hobart points out that this has been accomplished with water and electricity rates remaining at the 1930 level and with gas rates being lowered from 75 to 65 cents for the first 1000 cubic feet.

Iola has owned its utilities more than 50 years.

IOWA BANK WITH DEPOSITS OF $4,600,000 IS CLOSED

Consolidated National at Dubuque Had Capital of $500,000; Heavy Withdrawals.

By the Associated Press.
DUBUQUE, Ia., July 14.—The Consolidated National Bank failed today because of recent heavy withdrawals. Capital of the bank was $500,000 and the June 30 statement showed deposits of $4,600,000.

WATERLOO, Ia., July 14.—The Commercial National Bank closed today, the directors turning the property over to the Comptroller of Currency. Bank officers said the action was due to heavy withdrawals. The bank's statement of June 30 showed total resources of $6,018,834 including deposits of $4,687,614.

20 CHILDREN KILLED IN MOVIE FIRE PANIC

Outcry Starts Stampede for Doors at Talcuano Naval Base in Chile.

By the Associated Press.
CONCEPCION, Chile, July 14.—Twenty children were killed and 40 others reported injured in a panic in the Esmeralda Theater at the Talcuano naval base when a film caught fire yesterday.

About 300 children were in the theater, attending a special performance for children, when a comedy film burst into flames. Someone in the ranks of the audience shrieked "Fuego!" (fire). This started a stampede for the doors. In the scramble scores were trampled. Firemen recovered 20 bodies.

The fire damage was confined to the projection booth.

Chilean officials said the soldiers, sailors and carabinieri stationed at the naval base.

CHICAGO SUES TO FORECLOSE ON UNPAID TEACHERS' HOMES

Judgment Deferred in 200 Cases, Result of City's Failure to Pay Salaries.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Several hundred teachers and other Chicago public school employees—sued for many months—face the possible loss of their homes through foreclosures by the city which can not pay their salaries.

It was disclosed in court that the city has sued many of them for judgments on taxes long overdue. More than 200 such cases were before County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday, but he deferred judgment.

HOUSE INSISTS UPON PUBLICITY FOR R. F. C. LOANS

Record Vote 172 to 150 on Issue Deadlocking Conference on Unemployment Relief Bill.

ACCORD REACHED ON OTHER POINTS

Senate Section for Lending to Individuals Through Federal Reserve Is Approved.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 14.—Congressional conferees hit a deadlock today over the new unemployment relief bill and decided to disband while the House group asked further instructions from the House as to how to proceed.

The conferees were able to reach no agreement on the House section providing for publicity on all future loans through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The House then in a roll call vote decided to insist upon its amendment providing for such publicity. The vote was 172 to 150.

The amendment, supported by Speaker Garner, is the lone stumbling block to complete agreement of the House and Senate conferees on the bill. The next move rests with the Senate.

On the roll call in the House, Representative Cochran, St. Louis Democrat, voted in favor of full publicity, while Representatives Dyer and Niedringhaus, St. Louis Republicans, voted for secrecy.

Some Agreements.

Other controversies between the two Houses were completely ironed out. The Glass provision for loans to individuals through the 13 Federal Reserve banks was adopted.

Reorganization of the Reconstruction Corporation, by elimination from the board of two ex-officio members was approved.

The conferees adopted the Senate provision to prevent loans to financial institutions, officers of which have been on the board within a year.

Provisions of the House bill authorizing a $7,000,000 construction program at military air facilities was approved, and the Senate terms for Government capitalization of regional agricultural credit corporations were adopted.

Senate conferees said the Senate provision for loaning to veterans through Federal Reserve banks had been accepted. Now strongly endorsed by the administration, this would allow Reserve banks to go directly into the private banking field with the permission of the Federal Reserve Board.

R. F. C. Publicity Provision.

The House passed its bill yesterday by 236 to 46. The Senate stood by its individual loan plan yesterday by a vote of 60 to 10, when it was challenged, following a statement by Senator Glass that Secretary Mills of the Treasury and Gov. Meyer of the Federal Reserve Board did not oppose it.

Thirty-five Democrats and 11 Republicans voted against the House bill on final passage, after the Democrats had forced into the measure, 170 to 169, an amendment compelling the Reconstruction corporation to make public all loans. Speaker Garner voting for the first time this session to break a tie. How many of those voting against the bill did so because of this provision was not indicated.

Secretary Mills told newspapermen today he was "unilaterally opposed" to full publicity each month of Reconstruction Corporation loans. Mills said he would not speak for President Hoover on that point, but that as an individual member of the corporation's board he believed such a provision harmful.

The new measure increases the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's capital limit to $3,000,000, of which $100,000,000 is to be loaned to states for relief of destitution. It provides a $325,000,000 public works employment program, to be put under way only when the Secretary of the Treasury certifies Federal funds are sufficient for the expenditure.

During the 40 minutes of debate on the House bill, one after another of the Democratic members condemned it as inadequate, but all that could be had. "The best we can get," said Representative Cochran of Missouri, Doughton of North Carolina said. "The Reconstruction Finance Corporation responsibility rests on the 'White House.' Republican spokesmen hailed the bill as agreeable to the chief executive.

Representative Sabath (Dem.), Illinois, expressed hope that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation "will not move judiciously and fairly in the future."

BONUS SEEKERS MARCH ALL NIGHT BEFORE CAPITOL

Sleep in Relays in Vacant Lot and at Dawn 200 Led by 'Mr. Zero' Are Still in Line.

BREAKFAST BOUGHT BY MRS. E. B. McLEAN

Hoover Asks Congress for "Legislation to Facilitate Departure of Veterans From Washington."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 14.—An all night march before the Capitol was maintained last night by the war veterans here to demand immediate payment of the bonus.

At dawn 200 of them walked past the House and Senate wings of the building. Some marched but most had slipped into a slow shuffle, singing doggedly to the strains of a lone harmonica.

About 2 a. m. Washington's Police Chief, Pelham D. Glasgow, treated them to coffee and doughnuts. He suggested that a vacant lot back of the House office building would be a nice place to rest, but repeated his orders against sleeping on the Capitol grounds.

Marchers Sleep in Relays.

Some veterans took the hint. In relays they slept in the vacant lot and marched. Others rested on the steps of the Congressional Library. A few, overcome by exhaustion, were taken to hospitals for the rest of the night.

Most of the veterans were orderly, although one Roscoe Fagnola of West New York, N. J., complained he "didn't like the way the police ordered me off the grass." He spent what was left of the night in the police station.

In the lead of the parade was Urban Ledoux, better known as "Mr. Zero," friend of the destitute in New York. He and the harmonica player guided the uneasy line across the pavement before the Capitol.

Just behind them was a woman—wife of a marcher who had dropped out. Neither she nor the big yellow cat on her shoulder showed signs of fatigue as the East began to lighten. Her cat meowed while she joined in others in singing "There's a Long Long Trail 'Over There,' 'Pack Up Your Troubles' and some more old favorites.

When breakfast time came, the men had 1000 sandwiches to eat. Mrs. E. B. McLean, who drove by and watched the march for a time.

Several thousand veterans marched wearily back and forth across the Capitol plaza today in the lead of the march. They then recruits would enter the line. Occasionally marchers would drop out to enter the Capitol in little groups, some to wait before the gallery doors for admission, others simply to file through the corridors.

Police moved casually about the grounds on the lookout.

President Hoover yesterday sent to the capital a request for legislation to send the entire bonus army home.

The request also called for extension of the time within which homeward transportation would be granted the veterans by the Government until July 25. The time limit in first act granting such funds expires today.

So far $100,000 has been appropriated, considered only enough for 1500 men. The veterans admitted that the number between 7500 and 8000 veterans encamped about the city, and that another $25,000 will be needed.

The $100,000 fund was made available today by the House until July 25. The Senate has yet to act.

Accompanying the President's request was a report from Frank T. Hines, veterans administrator, saying that through Tuesday 1011 veterans had departed by train and 42 by automobile, using Government funds. In addition, 13 women and 15 children accompanying the bonus army he said, had been sent home in co-operation with the Red Cross.

Hines pointed out that it was likely a great number of the veterans would go home when Congress adjourned. This is expected by the end of the week.

SLEMP ADVISES PRESIDENT TO CLARIFY DRY LAW STAND

Suggests Hoover Declare for Substantive Amendment in Acceptance of Renomination.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 14.—Leaving the White House this afternoon C. Bascom Slemph, former Secretary to President Coolidge, said he had advised President Hoover to take an "unequivocal stand" on prohibition in his forthcoming speech accepting renomination. Slemph said he suggested that the President declare approval of an amendment to replace the eighteenth.

Although Slemph declined to give Mr. Hoover's reaction, he said he believed the President would follow this line.

Slemph, who is on the committee which will notify the President formally of his renomination, said the Chief Executive had told him the ceremonies would be held early in August. Slemph quoted the President as saying the acceptance speech would be delivered in Washington, although the exact spot had not been chosen. The south portion of the White House has been suggested.

FRANK L. SMITH FINALLY WINS NATIONAL COMMITTEE PLACE

Man Rejected From U. S. Senate Chosen by Small Fraction in Illinois.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 14.—Frank L. Smith of Dwight was elected Republican National Committee member for Illinois on the first ballot at a reconvened State Committee session today after a deadlock that lasted throughout 31 ballots taken at the Republican national convention. Gov. Emmerson opposed Smith. Smith is the former Commissioner and State Commerce Commissioner who three times was rejected from the United States Senate.

His election gave victory after a protracted deadlock to the faction led by Len Small, former Governor, who has returned to power as head of the Republican party in Illinois as its candidate for Governor.

Mrs. Bertha Baur of Chicago was previously elected National Committeewoman.

B. F. Dickmann of Real Estate Exchange Objects—Relief Agencies Resume Work With $200,000 Pledged by City.

A relief bond issue of $4,600,000 and a loan of $2,000,000 to be obtained from the Federal Government were proposed today by the Committee of 71 as their solution of the problem of how to finance relief work in St. Louis through 1933.

Meanwhile, with funds available to meet immediate needs, relief agencies were able to open their doors to the destitute again today as a result of assurance given that the city would furnish about $200,000 needed to care for the most urgent cases during the next month.

The committee's program is intended to meet only demands for funds above the normal resources of relief agencies. It recommends that they make their usual appeals for contributions and that the Board of Aldermen continue to consider special tax measures by which relief funds might be supplemented. It is suggested that some of the bonds may be needed to repay the Federal loan, and that not all the bonds authorized need be issued if other sources of relief funds are discovered.

This program was presented to the Committee of 71 in the majority report of a subcommittee of eight members appointed to study various proposals advanced at their meeting yesterday. It was promptly adopted with but two or three dissenting votes.

B. F. Dickmann Dissents.

A minority report was submitted by Bernard F. Dickmann, president of the Real Estate Exchange and a member of the subcommittee. Dickmann said he opposed a bond issue on three grounds, because 50 per cent of the cost would be borne by real estate, because real estate is unable to pay present taxes, and because many property owners have been making substantial contributions to charity by carrying unemployed tenants rent free.

If the Board of Aldermen could contrive special taxes which would pay interest on the bonds and retire the principal, Dickmann said, real estate would be relieved of the burden and he would withdraw his opposition to a bond issue.

The majority report will be presented tomorrow at another meeting of the group of 300 business and civic leaders called together by Mayor Miller last Friday to consider the crisis in relief work. The Committee of 71, headed by Harry B. Wallace, was chosen by the Mayor as a result of that conference.

Next Step in Procedure.

Should the proposed program be accepted, the next step would be for the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to draw up an ordinance authorizing the bond issue. If approved by the Board of Aldermen it would be submitted to the voters. A two-thirds majority would be required to make it effective.

Members of the subcommittee who favored the majority report were William L. Igoe, Walter B. Welschberger, L. Wade Childress, Aaron Rauh, Sidney Masters, J. Edgar Leeb and W. L. Hemmingsway.

The report of the subcommittee recommends that proceeds of the proposed bond issue be used "to include work-relief as seems advisable, and to reimburse the Federal Government, as when and if needed."

AIR LINE HEAD KILLED WHEN PLANE HITS PEAK

Four Passengers on Craft Injured in Storm Near Mexico City.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, July 14.—Carl Gilpin, president of the Gilpin Airways of Los Angeles, Cal., was killed and four persons on the private airplane he was piloting here from Los Angeles were injured when the plane crashed into a mountain near Toluca last night.

The injured are Mrs. Raymond Allen, who suffered internal injuries; James Crofton, president of the Agua Caliente Club of Lower California, his bride, Mona Rico, Mexican-born motion picture actress of Los Angeles, and Carlos Verdugo, a Mexican interpreter.

The plane crashed in a driving rain, just 30 miles short of reaching its goal at Mexico City. Gilpin, who was piloting the ship, tried to bring it down in the darkness and crashed into the mountain.

Gilpin was head of a company that operated passenger and mail planes between Los Angeles and San Diego, Cal.

Crofton said the desire to make a single day flight from Guaymas to Mexico City was responsible for the accident. He said the party left San Diego Tuesday, spending that night in Guaymas, whence they decided to fly to Mexico City in a day. After lunch at Guaymas the party continued and was over the dangerous Toluca range as darkness set in.

Gilpin decided to try to land in the mountains, and brought the plane down cautiously. The landing gear was stripped off, however, and the plane staggered into the air again, collapsed and rolled over several times, finally dashing itself to bits.

CITY AUDITORIUM CONTRACT WILL BE AWARDED TUESDAY

Proceedings Go Forward After Dismissal of Injunction Suit Brought by American Legion Post.

$3,000,000 FUND FOR CONSTRUCTION

Tentative Building Plan Drawn and Part of Excavation Has Been Done on Market Street.

The contract for erection of the Municipal Auditorium will be awarded by the Board of Public Service next Tuesday, President Kinsey announced today, following dismissal last yesterday of an injunction suit to prevent the award.

Construction can be started within about two weeks after award of the contract.

Bids were received by the board on June 23, the day after the suit was filed. The low bidder was the Beas-Kiel Construction Co., headed by former Mayor Kiel. Its price for completing the entire structure, as originally planned, was $3,892,000, which is more than the city has to spend. Which of several combinations of units, omitting certain features of the building, is to be selected, has not been determined.

The auditorium will occupy a site owned by the city on the south side of Market street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, and extending nearly to Clark avenue. Part of the excavation has been done.

An appreciable impetus to employment in the building trades will be given by the work. The Building Trades Council has urged the contract be awarded as soon as possible.

Tentative Building Plan.

Kinsey is to confer with Kiel about which combination bid is to be adopted. The tentative plan, since bids were received, has been to erect the entire outer part of the structure and finish a music hall with 1500 seats, and a hall with 700 seats each, the main lobby, a huge exhibition space and various other features, but to leave a great hall of 12,000 seats only partly completed.

The city has $3,700,000 left of a $5,000,000 fund for the project. The 1933 bond issue, after paying for the site and plans for this item, it expects to spend not more than about $3,000,000 on construction, reserving most of the rest for the extensive, expensive need for a principal argument in the injunction suit was that the auditorium and Memorial Plaza bond funds were being confused, but the city reimbursed the plaza bond account from the auditorium account for the auditorium site.

Plaintiffs in the injunction suit were Jackson Johnson Jr., post of the American Legion and two individual taxpayers. The Legion generally has favored the auditorium plan, following an agreement reached with city officials several months ago over war memorial plans. No statement was made in connection with the formal dismissal of the suit yesterday by lawyers for the plaintiffs at the expense of the plaintiffs.

Kinsey said he had been told a member of the family of Jackson Johnson Jr., for whom the post was named, had complained to the post about the suit. R. W. Suedmeyer, commander of the post, denied this. The post headquarters, 4160 Lindell boulevard, is in property owned by the Johnson family and given virtually free of rent.

Explanation to Post.

Circuit Judge Rutledge, who has been an advocate for years of the plan for a civic center about Memorial Plaza, including the auditorium, explained the scheme to the post last Monday night. Suedmeyer asserted that the filing of the suit had served the post's purpose in preventing the auditorium from being known temporarily as a war memorial. However, no announcement has been made by the city of any change of its intention in this respect. Suedmeyer added that, contrary to reports, the post was actively interested in the suit.

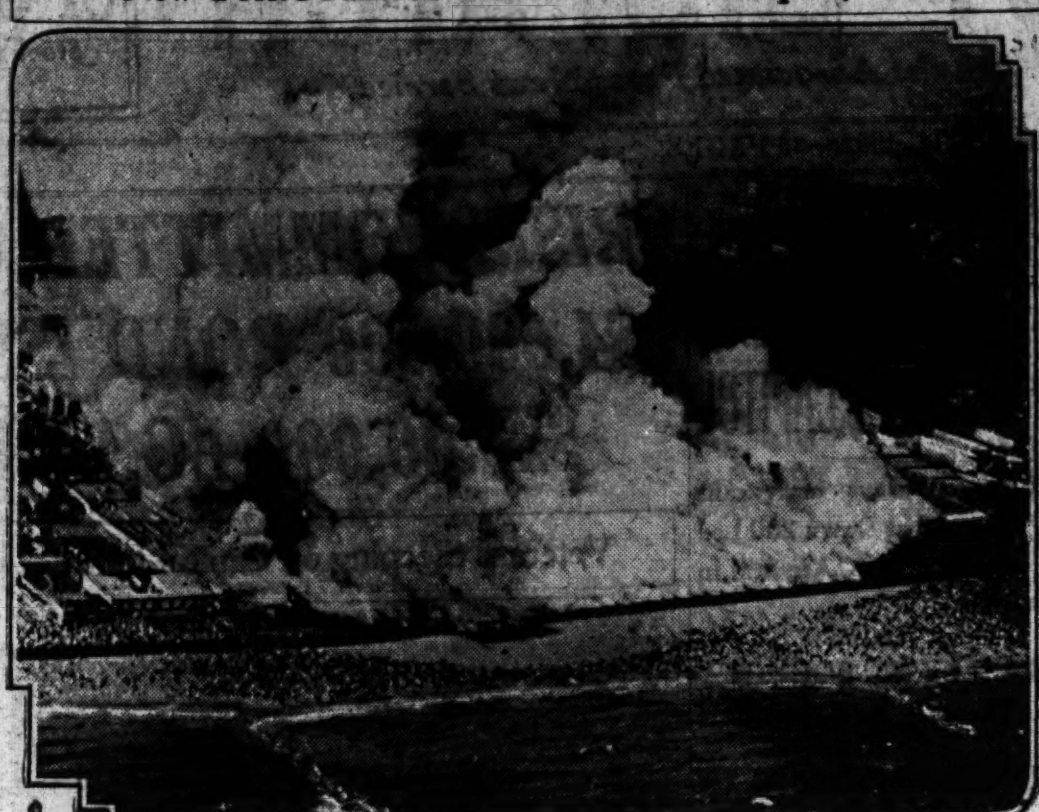

Filing of the suit had been condemned in resolutions adopted by representatives of various trade and business groups.

A resolution emphasizing the necessity of providing "employment rather than charity," and referring to the demonstration at the City Hall Monday, was adopted at a meeting of representatives of eight trade organizations.

It stated that the construction of public works, specifically the building of the auditorium, offers immediate relief for unemployment, and concluded with the declaration that "this body urges the petitioners to withdraw the injunction suit in behalf of the vast army of unemployed, and in behalf of the civic interest of our city."

Organizations represented were: the Hotel Men's Association, Sheet Metal Contractors' Association, Building Trades Council, Contracting Plumbers' Association, Master Roofers' Association, St. Louis Brick and Tile Bureau, Plumbers and Heating Dealers' Association,

TWO ROBBERY SUSPECTS SHOT TO DEATH IN FIGHT WITH POSSE

Alleged Boxcar Thieves Caught in Trap on Road Near Graniteburg, Wis.

By the Associated Press.
GRANITEBURG, Wis., July 14.—Charles Richardson, alias Manning, and Lawrence Clark, alias Carter, Minneapolis robbery suspects, died in a hospital at Frederick, Wis., today of wounds suffered in an exchange of shots with a Sheriff's force near here last night.

Recent raids on box cars had caused Sheriff Charles Saunders to deputize several citizens. The Sheriff planned trap, and a nearby road was partially blocked. As an automobile bearing the two men came along, Saunders called for a halt. The reply was a burst of pistol shots from the automobile, which sped away and then stopped after the Sheriff's men opened fire. Richardson tried to escape in near-by woods.

Mrs. Richardson, her daughter, Elizabeth, 18 years old, and Mrs. Clark were found in a secluded cabin northeast of Danbury. The Sheriff said the men had headquarters there and that box-car and store loot was found. The women were held as material witnesses.

Minnesota Crime Bureau records show Richardson, 39 years old, has served a Missouri prison term for burglary and two terms in the Nebraska prison for robbery. He was released July 15, 1930, from the latter prison.

U. S. CHEMICAL EXPERT DIES

NEW YORK, July 14.—Van H. Manning Sr., who developed the United States Chemical Warfare Service during the World War, is dead. He succumbed yesterday at his home in Queens at the age of 70 years.

Manning, more recently a consulting engineer, was director of the Bureau of Mines during the war. He received much of the credit for the experiments that reduced the price of helium. Manning was born at Horn Lake, Minn., son of a father of the same name, who was a Congressman. Surviving are the widow, who was Emily S. Stevens of Washington, and two sons.

ROOSEVELT CHANGES COURSE TWICE IN DAY ON SAILING TRIP

Heads Toward Nausahon Bay Where He Will Be Guest of Former Ambassador Forbes.

By the Associated Press.
NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 14.—Changing his course for the second time today, Skipper Franklin D. Roosevelt pointed the prow of his yacht back across Buzzards Bay this afternoon for Nausahon Island. There, this evening, he will be the dinner guest of W. Cameron Forbes, former Governor of the Philippines and former Ambassador to Japan.

Nausahon is an island neighbor of Cuttyhunk, from which Roosevelt sailed this morning, intending to visit Woods Hole and then proceed to the Cape Cod Canal to pursue a course up the Massachusetts coast to Portsmouth, N. H.

Instead of heading against head winds—slow work in the choppy sea—Gov. Roosevelt had a fair wind to send him bowling over the water on the run from the mainland to Nausahon. The distance was about 15 miles and he was expected to reach the Forbes summer estate well before sundown. His anchorage for the night will be Hadley's Harbor.

CHICAGOAN HELD IN $50,000 DURAND EXTORTION PLOT

Roofing Firm Head Accused as Prime Mover; Four Others Previously Arrested.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 14.—Max W. Kraake, 47 years old, head of a roofing company, was arrested today, accused by the police of plotting the attempted extortion of $50,000 from Jack Durand of Lake Bluff under threat of kidnapping 3-year-old Patricia Durand.

Kraake was taken into custody at his South Campbell avenue home by three officers including Detective William Hennessy, who participated in the capture of two ex-convicts at the Durand Crabtree farm early Tuesday morning. He was taken to the detective bureau for questioning.

Four other suspects are in custody, two of the under bond at Waukegan and two ex-convicts in jail here. The latter four are believed to have made the acquaintance of young Durand while he served two years of a prison term for a North Shore robbery.

Sgt. Hennessy said Kraake admitted he had acted as intermediary for an unnamed person and had met Jack Durand last December, demanding $2000 from him. As late as 10 days ago, the detective said, Kraake visited the Durand home in Lake Bluff but missed Jack Durand, who was absent.

Extradition From Illinois Sought.

Extradition proceedings to return Francis Bradley, 28 years old, to St. Louis County from Anna, Ill., to face a robbery charge have been begun by St. Louis County officials. Bradley is charged with robbing Charles J. Miller, a barber of Creve Coeur, of $100 in December, 1930. A man named as his accomplice is being held at Clayton.

FORMER BUSINESS EXECUTIVE ARRESTED IN $7000 ROBBERY

J. Edward Webb, Joplin, Implicated as One of Three Who Took Farmer's Life Savings.

By the Associated Press.
JOPLIN, Mo., July 14.—J. Edward Webb of Joplin, a former prominent Joplin business man, was arrested here early today and taken to St. Louis to face a charge of complicity in the $7000 robbery of a farmer's life savings.

Webb's arrest at his home in a fashionable residence district here followed receipt of information from Denver, Colo., that Charles J. Trease, arrested there recently in connection with the Lewis robbery, had confessed and named Webb as an accomplice. The third man in the robbery, whose identity authorities say they know, has not been apprehended.

Webb denied complicity, but was ordered held in jail for arraignment. Dan Lewis, son of Bill Lewis, also in jail at Cassville, charged with having been an accomplice in the robbery, also denied complicity in the robbery.

Webb formerly was general manager here of the Eagle-Picher Lead Works.

MINISTER-PUBLISHER ENDS LIFE BY SLASHING THROAT

The Rev. Harold Marshall, Universalist, Recently Suffered Nervous Breakdown; Wife Ill.

By the Associated Press.
MELROSE, Mass., July 14.—The Rev. Harold Marshall, head of the Universalist Publishing Society, today ended his life by slashing his throat with a razor. Friends said he had recently suffered a nervous breakdown.

The Rev. Dr. Marshall resigned the pastorate of the Universalist Church here to become head of the publishing society.

The clergyman's body was found at his home in a room adjoining that in which his widow is stricken with a nervous collapse. She was not informed of his suicide.

LEE H. SWEET, SALESMAN, ENDS LIFE IN BATHROOM

Lee H. Sweet, 38-year-old salesman, was found dead on the floor of the bathroom at his home, 609 Sunnyside avenue, Webster Groves, early today, with his throat cut and a razor lying near by. He left a note to his wife, the content of which was not disclosed.

He is survived by her and three sons. The coroner's office was informed that Sweet had suffered from a mental ailment.

$3,000,000 FIRE AT CONEY ISLAND AS 25,000 LOOK ON

Section of Board Walk, Apartments, Amusement Places and Bath Houses Are Destroyed.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 14.—Fire that started in rubbish under the boardwalk swept three square blocks of Coney Island late yesterday. The property loss was estimated at $3,000,000. Two hundred persons were injured. Of these, only two, firemen, were seriously hurt; the others were given first aid and dismissed.

The flames, fanned by a fresh breeze off the ocean, destroyed 50 bungalows and houses; six bath-houses and bathing pavilions; 200 parked automobiles; the pergola; the "Streets of Baghdad," an amusement place; a small apartment building; five blocks of the boardwalk and most of the buildings fronting on that section of the two-mile promenade. In addition, 40 houses and several business places were damaged.

At St. Joseph's Orphan's Home on the boardwalk 300 children were lined up in fire drill as the flames swept toward it, but firemen got the fire under control before it reached the orphanage. Thousands were made homeless.

About 5000 bathers among the 25,000 on the surf at the time, lost their clothes and personal possessions as the fire destroyed their bathhouses.

Twenty-five thousand persons in bathing suits stood along the beach to the edge of which the fire came, and watched. Where the flames roared hottest the bathers were forced back almost to the water's edge.

Many thousands, at the first sight of the fire, dashed for the bath houses and succeeded in getting their clothes. About 3000 others, intent in watching the fire, forgot their clothes until the flames were in the bath houses.

No estimate of the personal losses suffered by bathers could be made. Adding to their loss was their predicament of being many miles from home with only a bathing suit and no money for transportation. In the emergency bus provided free transportation home for those in bathing suits. Police also commandeered buses.

In addition to the bath houses and private homes destroyed, the fire wiped out many small shops selling curios, antiques and souvenirs.

Their homes gone, thousands slept last night on the beach. Others took advantage of offers of shelter in theaters and other public buildings.

More than 500 persons lost their homes in the destruction of the one apartment building. Police estimated the total number of homeless at 5000.

Hundreds of families became separated and children were lost. Looters were quick to take advantage of the confusion. As men and women ran from bath houses at the shouts of "Fire!" Thieves slipped in and out, ahead of the flames, taking what they could.

At Silver's baths, one of the places destroyed, several women were in the steam room. When they heard the cry of "fire" they did not stop to dress. Most of them ran into the street with towels wrapped about them. Persons living nearby supplied them with clothing.

Automobiles parked in violation of ordinances beside fire plugs and in forbidden areas caused much delay to firemen.

During all the excitement, with ambulances forcing their way through packed streets, Coney Island went on with its play. Ferris wheels made their slow circles, roller-coasters streaked on with their cargoes of laughing youth, and throngs, laughing and excited, moved about among the amusements.

A blimp floated overhead last night and a radio announcer, with special apparatus, broadcast a word picture of the scene from the sky. Radios in the fire-scorched living rooms blared the story coming from the little airship overhead.

Crisis Committee Urges Bond Issue of $4,600,000

business men devoted to the policy of governmental economy," the report states, "but after the most careful study of every way out, we can find no answer but a bond issue."

"For Only Portion of the Load,"

"We realize the possible danger of relief becoming a debt burden on taxpayers if the entire need were to be taken care of by a bond issue. Therefore, it must be clearly understood that our recommended bond issue is for only a portion of the load, and the public at large will be required virtually to match the city's subscription."

"Your committee earnestly recommends the adoption of a $4,600,000 bond issue for relief, a considerable part of which may be rendered unnecessary by Federal loans or special tax legislation which may be passed by the Board of Aldermen."

"The committee recommends this course because it can find no other, because St. Louis cannot retreat before hunger and want without dire results, because this is a fair and equitable means of distributing the responsibility of meeting the need among those that would be most affected in any break-down of our social order, because finally a bond issue puts the whole dilemma up to the people of St. Louis for their own decision at the ballot box. Their voice will be final and removes the burden of speaking for them from the shoulders of their officials or any citizens' group."

The Federal loan, the committee's report said, should provide funds while a bond issue proposition is being prepared for submission to the people. The city has already officially asked Gov. Caulfield, to apply for such a loan as soon as Congress passes the requisite legislation, and the committee agreed "to press this claim through Gov. Caulfield and the Missouri delegation in Congress."

The bond issue proposal probably could not be placed before the voters until the November elections. Preliminary steps could not be completed in time to have it passed on at the primary election of Aug. 2, and a special election would be unduly expensive.

Full consideration was given to the proposals advanced at yesterday's meeting, the committee reported, and all of them will be referred, without recommendation, to the Board of Aldermen.

On Municipal Income Tax.

Merits of a proposed municipal income tax were studied, the committee reported, "but we found that the power of the city to levy such a tax was so highly questionable that the clearing up of its legality would involve far too much time to serve our present relief purposes."

The 1 cent tax on the selling price of newspapers, suggested by Diekmann as an alternative to a bond issue, was rejected with the comment: "The injustice of putting to a test a business enterprise seems apparent."

The report adds that the committee recognized the problem of relief of destitution "as one that will be with us for some time to come. We believe the sterner St. Louis and St. Louisians attack the whole problem on other than a temporary basis, the better."

"The committee, therefore, looks with favor upon the suggestion that a survey of employment be made and that every industrialist be asked to analyze his plant with a view to providing more employment by adjustment of hours, of cost."

The report directs attention to the fact that money to be raised by a bond issue can be spent for relief only in St. Louis, although relief agencies in the city and county. The problem in St. Louis County, the committee reported, will have to receive similar consideration of authorities there.

Relief Agencies Resume Work.

The $200,000 made available late yesterday by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment enabled relief agencies to again consider new applications and to resume assisting the most needy of the 13,000 families which had been abandoned because funds were not available.

E. G. Steger, director of relief for Citizens' Committee, said that amount was expected to prove sufficient until the program recommended by the Committee of 71 becomes operative. It is hoped that the Federal loan may be obtained within a month.

Since June 15, when the agencies began to refuse new applications, 4880 who asked for help have been turned away. Two weeks later they agencies began to accept applications. It is hoped to eliminate some of the 25,000 families who had been receiving assistance, and that total was brought down this week to 12,000.

To Plan for Funds to Carry Through 1933—$4,400,000 Needed.

The Committee of 71 at yesterday's meeting accepted the recommendation of Wallace as chairman, that it should plan a financial program which would provide relief funds throughout 1933. On that basis, he told them, they would have to raise $5,000,000 for use from now to Dec. 31, 1933, assuming that the relief agencies themselves raised about $2,400,000 for use next year.

Wallace's estimate was based on the assumption that the need for relief would continue on the present basis for at least another 18 months, and the relief agencies of Citizens' Committee would continue to spend about $300,000 more than their own resources could provide.

Several suggestions were offered for the municipal income tax. The most comprehensive was proposed by N. A. Doyle, vice-president of the American Car & Foundry Co., and a member of the committee. He urged a two per cent levy on all sorts of income earned or paid in the city, the tax to be withheld at the source and paid directly to the city.

Other proposals included an issue of municipal bonds in small denominations to be used as currency and paid to men put to work on public construction, a toll tax for use of the Free Bridge, and the newspaper tax.

Director of Public Utilities Pritchard proposed a $2,500,000 bond issue to be spent in improving and extending the distribution system of the municipal waterworks, because the need, he said, and about half the cost would self sustaining.

SENATE GROUP BEGINS INQUIRY INTO R. F. C. LOANS

Chairman Couzens Asks for List of Transactions With Rate of Interest and Security.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 14.—An inquiry into every loan that has been made by the Reconstruction Corporation was undertaken today by a special Senate committee with demand for the records of the corporation.

The committee plans to look into the $80,000,000 that went to Central Republic Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago, of which Charles G. Dawes, former head of the corporation, is chairman.

That loan has been cited in Congress as the largest to any business enterprise since the war, some voicing suggestions of favoritism.

The request for a detailed report of loans was embodied in a letter from Chairman Couzens of the special committee to Eugene Meyer, head of the board.

"I am authorized by the committee to ask you to furnish as quickly as possible a complete list of all loans, the date of maturity, the rate of interest and the security pledged, since the organization of the corporation," Couzens wrote.

Couzens said it probably would take the corporation several days to compile the information, but that the inquiry would go ahead as quickly as possible. He said experts would be hired.

Details of all the loans will be made public. The committee authorized to report whatever it should be called to the attention of the Senate.

Determination to study the loan to the Dawes bank was indicated by Couzens in asking the Senate to approve his resolution for the inquiry. He called attention to the discussion of the loan and said: "There is, in my judgment, considerable unrest in respect to the type of loans and the security that is being put up for the loans aggregating $1,000,000,000 already made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation."

"In view of the circumstances, occurred to me that a Senate committee might examine the record and see whether the loans were being made in accordance with the law and that they were adequate security."

The loan was criticized in the House yesterday by Representative Sabath (Dem.) of Illinois who said the corporation "could have saved a number of small banks in Chicago and declined to act."

go to the labor. Bonds issued for that purpose, Pritchard said, would not increase the general tax on the waterworks.

Tax Bill Killed, 20 to 1.

The sales tax bill was a vote of 20 to 1. Only men Ellers, Kuhns, J. Schwartz, William F. Neustadt, and F. Neustadt voted for approval. It would increase the sales tax on merchants and manufacturers from $1 on each $100 to $1.50.

Alderman Neumann, a dealer, said he had been the wholesale district on Van Avenue at $8 per unit. The retail dealers would be pressed for immediate pay for their bills. Alderman Studt said the bill would increase the tax on business already taxed, and said that new should be sought from which new escape with light.

The bridge toll bill was at the behest of Alderman who favors a flat 10 charge for all vehicles. Reported by the committee sponsored by Alderman W. established charges identified at the behest of Alderman who favors a flat 10 charge for all vehicles.

At the hearing this George W. Curran, coal dealer, said the bill was hypothetical, that while it had the usual measure, it would give large coal dealers a break.

This would be brought Curran said, because small who truck coal across the bridge would be "driven business."

Says Bill Would Aid Traffic.

Ellers argued that the bill would divert traffic to the bridge rather than produce for the city. It would also, he said, to drive out small trucks who were being driven out by Alderman Neumann.

Alderman Kaufman also the rates in Wiehe's bill and suggested charges of for measure vehicles. 20 trucks and 25 cents for by Trust Company Bill Co.

The bill which would companies 5 per cent of the receipts was amended by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation today for a tax of 3 per cent receipts. The measure, estimated, would yield about a year.

The amendment was after Rhodes V. Cave, attorney for the Union Trust Co., representatives of other trust companies had presented that Cave said a tax of 5 per cent would be equivalent to 10 per cent on the net. He asked whether the Alderman favored other business.

ALDERMEN KILL $300,000 SALES TAX FOR RECONSTRUCTION

Free Bridge Toll Bill Raise $500,000 Sent to Committee for Consideration.

MEASURES TO GRANT $27,000 PAID TO REAL ESTATE AGENTS, S. Companies, Cloth Manufacturers and Concerns Assessed.

The Board of Aldermen, in a special session yesterday after tax bills designed to raise $300,000 for the reconstruction of the Free Bridge toll bill, approved four ordinances which would produce $27,500.

The Aldermen, who have been working night and day on legislation, as their president of the Committee of 71, have succeeded since last February in passing nine tax bills which estimated to yield $470,000.

Increased gasoline tax is expected to produce $400,000. The total is $130,000 short of the $500,000 the city pledged to raise for the reconstruction of the bridge.

The four bills approved yesterday would increase the tax on real estate agents from $25 to $50; would tax surety companies $1 a year for each $100,000 of bonds; would tax manufacturers of cloth and clothing 2 per cent of the net

ALDERMEN KILL $300,000 SALES TAX FOR RELIEF

Free Bridge Toll Bill to Raise $500,000 Sent Back to Committee for Reconsideration.

MEASURES TO GET $27,000 PASSED

Real Estate Agents, Surety Companies, Clothing Manufacturers and Towel Concerns Assessed.

The Board of Aldermen, meeting in a special session yesterday to consider tax bills designed to raise $27,000 for relief appropriations, definitely killed the $300,000 sales tax measure, sent back to committee for reconsideration the $500,000 free bridge toll bill, and approved four ordinances which will produce $27,000.

The Aldermen, who have been working night and day on relief legislation, as their president told the Committee of 71 yesterday, have succeeded since last February in passing nine tax bills which are estimated to yield $470,000. The increased gasoline tax is counted on to produce $400,000 of this, $80,000 the city pledged in the relief campaign of last February with the understanding that the Aldermen would pass special tax bills to produce that amount. The full bill pledged, however, has been turned over to the Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment and has already been spent.

Bills Passed Yesterday. The four bills approved yesterday would increase the tax paid by real estate agents from $25 a year to $50; would tax surety companies $1 a year for each employee; would tax manufacturers of clothing and manufacturers of towels 1 per cent of the contract price.

The real estate agents' tax increase is estimated to yield $13,000; the surety company levy, $2,000; the towel service tax, $2,000; and the clothing contractors' tax, $10,000. The four tax bills previously approved impose levies on law firms, undertakers, slot machines and barber chairs. Measures which have died by a vote of 20 to 6, the $300,000 sales tax bill, the $500,000 bridge toll bill, and the $200,000 increase in the merchants' and manufacturers' ad valorem tax.

Tax Bill Killed, 20 to 6. The sales tax bill was defeated by a vote of 20 to 6. Only Aldermen Eilers, Kuhs, Rieflinger, Schwartz, William F. Niedermeier and President Neun held out for approval. It would have increased the sales tax paid by merchants and manufacturers from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 per cent on each $1000 in sales to $150.

Alderman Neumann, a clothing dealer, said he had been told in the wholesale district on Washington avenue that 80 per cent of the retail dealers would fail if passed for immediate payment of the bill. Alderman Studt thought the tax would increase the burden on businesses already heavily taxed, and said that new revenue would be sought from sources which now escape with light taxes.

The bridge toll bill was sent back to the Public Utilities Committee at the behest of Aldermen Eilers, who favors a flat 10 cent toll charge for all vehicles. The bill reported the committee was sponsored by Alderman Wiehe, and established charges identical with those fixed by the Terminal Railroad Association for use of the Eads Bridge.

At the hearing this afternoon George W. Cawley, cost engineer, called the bill hypocritical, and said that while it had the guise of a relief measure, it would relieve only large coal dealers and the railroads.

This would be brought about, Cawley said, because small dealers who truck coal across the Free Bridge would be driven out of business.

Says Bill Would Aid Terminal. Alderman Kaufman also thought the rates in Wiehe's bill too high and suggested charges of 10 cents for pleasure vehicles, 20 cents for trucks and 25 cents for busses.

Trust Company Bill Changed. The bill which would tax trust companies 5 per cent of their gross receipts was amended by the Legislation Committee today to provide for a tax of 3 per cent on net receipts. This measure, it is estimated, would yield about $75,000 a year.

The amendment was approved after Rhodes V. Cave, attorney for the St. Louis Union Trust Co., and representatives of other trust companies had presented their views. Cave said a tax of 5 per cent on gross receipts would be equivalent to 25 or 30 per cent on the net, and inquired whether the Aldermen knew of any other business so heavily taxed.

MEADOWS TO HANG TOMORROW AT 6 A. M.

Negro Murderer Also to Be Executed at Same Time in City Jail.

Formalities for the execution by hanging of Andrew B. Meadows, 56-year-old night watchman, and Emmerson White, 31-year-old Negro, in the City Jail at 6 a. m. tomorrow have been completed. The mandate for Meadows' death was received from the State Supreme Court yesterday and his death warrant turned over to the Sheriff, White's death warrant had already been issued.

Both men appeared resigned to their fate. The Supreme Court has denied an application for a writ of habeas corpus for Meadows' discharge and Gov. Cawfield has refused to act on his appeal for clemency. The Governor has refused to commute White's death sentence or grant him a reprieve.

Placed under a 48-hour death watch by deputy sheriffs yesterday, the condemned men spent the day calmly. Meadows, smoking a pipe phlegmatically, was visited by his wife and 22-year-old daughter. White, father of four children, was visited by a friend.

The men were permitted to call for anything they wished to eat today. The food will be paid for out of the $250 State fund provided for the expenses of the execution.

Meadows is to be hanged for his part in the burning of the Buckingham Annex Hotel, destroyed by fire Dec. 5, 1927, with the loss of seven lives, and White for the murder with a hatchet of a 70-year-old Negro on New Year's day, 1930.

Shortly after dawn tomorrow they will be taken from their cells to the death chamber. The twin trap doors will be sprung electrically by one of five deputy sheriffs who will press five buttons simultaneously. One of the buttons will spring the traps.

DAUGHTER OF WHELAN, CIGAR STORE MAN, DIES IN PARIS

Mrs. Katherine Gordon-Ellis Said to Have Taken Overdose of Sleeping Medicine.

PARIS, July 14.—Despite the efforts of doctors who worked 50 hours to save her life, Mrs. Katherine Whelan Gordon-Ellis, daughter of the late Frederick Whelan, American chain cigar store executive, died last night in the American Hospital. Doctors said death resulted from an overdose of a sleeping potion. She was 25 years old.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 14.—Mrs. Katherine Whelan Gordon-Ellis had spent most of her life abroad. She attended school in Paris and at 17 was married to Dr. Louis Gordon-Ellis, a French citizen of English parentage. They had two sons.

Last December Mrs. Gordon-Ellis, who was stopping at a hotel here, said that by her marriage she had become a "woman without a country" and could not return to Paris, where she had to appear in a divorce action she had instituted against her husband in 1926. Although born in the United States, Mrs. Gordon-Ellis said, when she applied for a passport she had been told she had forfeited her American citizenship because she had not visited this country within five years after her marriage.

The amendment was approved after Rhodes V. Cave, attorney for the St. Louis Union Trust Co., and representatives of other trust companies had presented their views. Cave said a tax of 5 per cent on gross receipts would be equivalent to 25 or 30 per cent on the net, and inquired whether the Aldermen knew of any other business so heavily taxed.

POLICE COURT TRIAL TOMORROW OF 32 IN CITY HALL RIOT

Hearing Reset After They Are Transported in Patrol Wagons to Avoid Demonstration.

Trial of charges of general peace disturbance against 32 alleged participants in the disturbance and fight on the City Hall lawn Monday, at a meeting of unemployed under Communist auspices was continued until tomorrow by Police Judge Blaine today at the request of the prosecution.

Assistant City Counselor Westphalinger told the court, "We want to review more thoroughly with the police, their testimony in these cases."

Judge Blaine announced the charges would be called at the head of tomorrow's docket. Of 43 persons arrested charged with having taken part in the demonstration, 11 are held for trial in Court of Criminal Correction on warrants issued by Prosecuting Attorney Rosen last night, charging them with unlawful assembly and participating in a riot. The warrants were to be filed with the clerk of the court today and the cases will be called for trial, probably within 10 days.

Of those scheduled for trial today in Police Court, only eight were at liberty under bond. The others were transported from Police Headquarters to the Municipal Courts Building, a distance of about a block, in police patrol. It is customary to let prisoners walk under guard from one building to the other, but patrols were used today as a precaution against disturbance.

No Alopec Meeting. The local Communist party group had planned a meeting last yesterday afternoon on Alopec, across Market street from Union Station, to "demonstrate against the City Hall massacre," but it failed to materialize.

Fifty uniformed policemen were ordered to duty at the plaza, two hours before the announced meeting time and the sight of them, perspiring in a temperature of 97 degrees and twirling steel-tipped night sticks, prevented the proposed demonstration.

Shortly before 5:30 o'clock, the time of the meeting, three detectives ordered two groups of Negroes, about 150 in all, to move from the corner of Twenty-first and Market streets, where they were squatting on the curbs and leaning against buildings. They moved away without complaint, and although Communist leaders "walked around the two-block plaza, they kept moving in response to police orders and made no attempt to assemble.

99 Degrees and 10 Per Cent. Individual policemen checked the statement of Acting Chief Glasco, after Monday's demonstration, when Glasco pointed out the police are giving 10 per cent of their salaries to charity.

Duty. "I'm giving 10 per cent," said one as he mopped his forehead. "I don't mind giving it either. But I don't mind standing out here in the sun two hours overtime to keep these guys from starting another scrap."

Four Arrests Wednesday. Two Negroes and two white men were arrested yesterday, one Negro and one white being taken into custody at Communist headquarters, 1243 North Garrison avenue, while the others were taken at Twenty-third and Fulton streets. Police charged that all participated in Monday's disturbance. All but one denied it.

Frank Lo Iacono, 38-year-old presser, 5577 Ridge avenue, William Scott, a Negro, 58 years old, 1239 North Tenth street, Sam Georgelas, 39 years old, 2927 Park avenue, Roney Hudson, 46, a Negro, 3717 Cook avenue.

Georgelas and Hudson were arrested at the headquarters. Scott admitted participation in the City Hall disorder.

Yetta Becker, one of the local Communist organizers, was the only woman for whom a warrant was asked. She was charged with George Benz, chairman of Monday's meeting, James Wright and Orville A. Smith.

A second rioting warrant named Thomas Beesley, John McGrath, Ben Powell and Dalton Robinson, and a third, Ulee Ivy, Jesse Woods

AUG. 2 PRIMARY BALLOTS WILL BE THE LONGEST EVER USED IN ST. LOUIS

BALLOTING in the primary election on Aug. 2 will be the longest ever used in St. Louis. The Democratic ballot to be handed to voters is about 26 inches long and the Republican about 32 inches. Sample ballots prepared by the Election Board exceed five feet in length, because these include all of the names of candidates for the party committees, who are chosen by wards, and of candidates for State Representatives, who are chosen in five districts.

The only office, which will appear on some ballots and not on others is that of State Senator, since nominations are to be made in only three of the six districts. All told, there are about 350 Republican candidates and about 270 Democratic upon whom St. Louis voters will pass.

The chief reason for the length of the ballots is the fact that nominees for Congress will be chosen at-large instead of in districts. Miss Emma J. Bobb, chairman of the Election Board, said she did not think the length of the ballots will delay the count materially.

BYRNES REFUSES TO JOIN DEMAND FOR HOWELL INQUIRY

Refers to Clark and Hay Charges as "Publicity Project for Dead Birds."

Col. James W. Byrnes, one of the four candidates for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, has refused to join Charles M. Hay and Col. Bennett C. Clark, two of his opponents, in a demand for an investigation of the campaign expenditures of the fourth candidate, Charles M. Howell of Kansas City.

In stating his position, Col. Byrnes, in a letter to W. Rufus Jackson, executive secretary of Col. Clark's campaign committee, said he has no knowledge nor evidence of excessive expenditures by Howell. He added in his letter that he will take no part in promoting "a publicity project for two dead birds," meaning Hay and Col. Clark, whom he said are men of no conviction and should withdraw from the race in view of their stand on prohibition.

and Nick Kubich. Five of the group are Negroes. All of the warrants are made returnable July 18.

It was announced in New York today that the American Civil Liberties Union was sending telegrams to Mayor Miller and to Oliver T. Remmers, president of the Board of Police Commissioners, asking that William Z. Foster, Communist candidate for President, be allowed to speak in St. Louis tonight.

Police, however, had previously announced that they would not interfere with the meeting since it was to be held indoors and it is only outdoor Communist meetings that they have forbidden.

James Ford, a Negro, Foster's running mate, also will speak at the meeting, at 1408 Chouteau avenue. The meeting will start at 7:45 o'clock.

99 Degrees at Columbia, S. C. By the Associated Press. COLUMBIA, S. C., July 14.—A heat wave yesterday broke a record here which had stood for 44 years. The thermometer showed 99 degrees, one more than in 1888. Lynchburg, Va., also reported 99 degrees.

ADMITS KILLING HIS FATHER AND HIS STEPMOTHER

Birch Tree, Mo., Youth Says He and Three Others Tried to Rob Them of $2000.

By the Associated Press. BIRCH TREE, Mo., July 14.—Earl Raymond Phelps, 19 years old, confessed here today that he and three other youths last night murdered his father and stepmother who resisted an attempt to rob them of a $2000 inheritance.

Phelps confessed to a reporter for the Springfield Leader and to L. N. Searcy, father of the Shannon County prosecutor and a former State Senator. The Sheriff, J. N. Norton, Prosecutor Ben Searcy and the other authorities led him away to a bank to put his confession in writing, while other officers went to the neighborhood of Trask Mo., in search of the three youths he implicated.

Phelps said he and another youth held his father and stepmother as they struggled, while two other youths beat them with a hammer and stabbed them with a butcher knife. The hammer was found this morning in the back yard of the Phelps home a quarter of a mile south of Birch Tree. The butcher knife, its blade broken, was discovered in the house.

Mrs. Phelps, formerly Hattie Reesor of Urbana, Mo., in Dallas County, who married about a year ago after answering an advertisement by Phelps for a housekeeper, died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital in West Plains. Her husband, Felix O. Phelps, a State highway maintenance man, died in the West Plains hospital at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The son said in his confession that his stepmother had inherited $2000 a short time ago, and that last Monday he went to Trask and proposed the robbery to a friend, who induced two other Trask youths to join with them. They met last night near his father's home, he said, and went into the house to get the money. His father and stepmother fought them off and two of the youths seized weapons while he and another held them until they quit struggling, he said.

The elder Phelps and his first wife were divorced. She and one young son live in California. There are two other sons, Chester Phelps, farmer, of Birch Tree; Fred Phelps of St. Louis, and a daughter, Mrs. Pansy Wells, Trask, Mo.

Body Taken From River. The body of an unidentified man about 55 years old was taken from the Missouri River near St. Charles Bridge yesterday by employees of a sand company. The man was about 6 feet tall, weighing 160 pounds, and was wearing overalls, a white shirt and black shoes. The body was taken to the Baumann Bros' undertaking establishment at Overland.

EIGHT MONTHS FOR STEALING PENNIES FROM NEWS BOXES George Mueller, 55, Pleads Guilty Of Theft Along Gravois Avenue.

George Mueller, 55 years old, was sentenced to eight months in the Workhouse by Provisional Judge Vettori in the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing pennies from news boxes along Gravois avenue.

Ralph Kennah, a news dealer, told the Court the boxes had been rifled every morning for a month, and that he had once seen Mueller at a box.

JOBLESS-LIBERTY PARTY TO CONVENE HERE AUG. 17 The convention of the Jobless-Liberty Party, headed by the Rev. James R. Cox of Pittsburgh, Pa., will be held Aug. 17 at Creve Coeur Lake, St. Louis County, it was announced today.

A dispatch from Rome said that Father Cox, who led a group of United States pilgrims there after the Eucharistic Congress in Dublin, would sail for the United States Wednesday.

Boy Drowned in the Mississippi. Lee Desmuth, 18-year-old Negro, 107 Brooklyn street, East St. Louis, was drowned in the Mississippi River about midway between the Eads and Municipal bridges yesterday afternoon. A companion, Lawrence Triplett, 47 Brooklyn street, said Desmuth, who was unable to swim, went into the water between the east bank of the river and a Government sand dredge.

Sixth Infantry, now brought up to war strength by the addition of the new soldiers, and saying that "discipline does not consist in standing like a ramrod but of doing what should be done, as it should be done."

Capt. Lincoln's brother, Norman P. Lincoln, attended the ceremonies which concluded with the administration of the C. M. T. C. oath of allegiance.

Despite the heat, the youths engaged vigorously in baseball, basketball and track athletics on the sunny parade ground yesterday afternoon. Some of them still were playing at nightfall, as scores of them were in the camp.

Others took to their coats, although it was hot inside the tents.

6 "PLIES"?

You can count six layers of cord here, but the first two under the tread in this tire, (or in any so-called "six-ply" tire built this way) do not run from bead to bead. Some tire-makers count these as "plies," but they are really "breaker strips," so we call them that

MRS. AIMEE S. HUTTON
IN 'PRECARIOUS' STATE

Lapses Into Coma; Ordered Removed From Resort to Hospital in Los Angeles.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 14.—Dr. Edward H. Williams said today that Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, the evangelist, was in a precarious condition and that he had ordered her removed from a Lake Elsinore resort to a Los Angeles hospital in an ambulance. The evangelist was said to have lapsed into a coma last night.

"There is a strong possibility that she may suffer a cerebral hemorrhage from brain concussion," Dr. Williams said. Mrs. Hutton has been ill since she suffered a nervous breakdown more than a year ago. Her condition was aggravated by a tropical disease contracted on a recent Central American tour. She suffered a head injury Sunday when she fainted and fell on being informed that her husband, David Hutton, had lost in a breach of promise suit brought by Myrtle Joan St. Pierre, a nurse.

The evangelist began to slip into unconsciousness, it was said, during a conference with an attorney regarding a $240,000 damage suit filed by Roy Stewart, movie director, over a motion picture contract. Recently she lost a $10,000 suit to Harvey Gates, a scenario writer. Apparently improved, she awoke Wednesday and directed the discharge of 20 employees of her Angelus Temple Commissary, after which she dictated an appeal to the public for continued support of the temple welfare work. Then she summoned her attorney, but he said she found it impossible to focus her mind on details.

"I was unable to elicit an intelligible word from her," he said.

SUITOR KILLS NEVADA, MO., GIRL

Fired Shotgun After She Told Him "to Go Away."

By the Associated Press.

NEVADA, Mo., July 14.—Webster Hallett, County Prosecutor, today was preparing first degree murder charges to be filed against Cleo Truskett, 22 years old, of Arcadia, Kan., who yesterday shot and killed Miss Merle Griffiths, 21, after a quarrel.

Truskett, brought to the county jail here following the shooting, was said by officers to have admitted killing the young woman, to whom he had paid attentions. The prisoner said he discharged a shotgun at Miss Griffiths after paying her a call. She ordered him, he declared, "to go away and leave her alone or the other fellow would get me."

SAYS HE WAS MISTAKEN
IN IDENTIFYING ROBBER

Belleville Man Joins in Pardon Plea for Joseph Giardino, Serving 10 Years for $8100 Holdup.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 14.—Saying that he was mistaken in identifying Joseph Giardino as one of four men who robbed an East St. Louis & Suburban Railway pay car of $8100 in 1926, Joseph Van Dusen of Belleville last night asked the State Pardon Board to release Giardino.

Giardino is now serving a sentence of 10 years to life in Chester penitentiary. An affidavit with a request for pardon for Giardino was sent last month to Gov. Emerson of Illinois by Fredrick Wosten, former gangster, stating that he, not Giardino, was the leader of the robbers. Van Dusen, who was an assistant cashier in the pay car, identified Giardino following the robbery, as did Albert B. Schick, motorman.

Cuba Gets Extension on Loan.

G. O. P. WOMEN HEAR CANDIDATES TALK AT LUNCHEON

Most of Aspirants for Major Offices Fail to Appear in Person but Send Spokesmen.

The liquor question, which in recent years has been soft-pedaled in Republican campaigning, was in the forefront yesterday at a Republican Women's Club luncheon for candidates for State offices, at Hotel Statler.

Three minutes was allowed each candidate or his representative, and many of the speakers referred to prohibition, nearly all of these declaring for the wet side.

Isaac Hedges, who managed Mayor Miller's last campaign, in which Miller defeated former Mayor Kiel in bitter fight, spoke for Kiel, candidate for nomination for United States Senator. Hedges said he had endeavored in the majority campaign to avoid factional hard feelings. Kiel is running as a dripping wet.

"I am praying and hoping," said
Hedges, "that it will be Kiel against Charles M. Hay in the election, for then St. Louis will carry the Republican ticket to victory with a 75,000 majority."

Hay, a leading dry, is a candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination. St. Louis has strong wet sentiment, but Republican leaders have admitted privately that Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee, is likely to carry this city over President
Hoover by a large plurality.

Alroy S. Phillips Speaks.
Alroy S. Phillips of St. Louis, a candidate for the Supreme Court of Missouri, said the present Supreme Judges come from dry, rural sections of the State and advocated selection of a new Judge from St.
Louis, which furnishes a large part of the litigation before the tribunal. "We should have a Judge who is wet," Phillips asserted, "and who knows and understands his people."

State Representative Elmer, a manager of the campaign of Secretary of State Becker for the nomination for Governor, said that he could not promise in Becker's behalf to repeal the eighteenth amendment or the State bone-dry law or to accomplish other things, because, he said, the Governor cannot run the Legislature.

Louis E. Triester of 1624 Dolman street, a former State Representative, running for Lieutenant-Governor, who described himself as one of the 22 representatives who voted against the State liquor law, advocated repeal of that law.
He said: "If the German voters of South St. Louis are not swung back to the Republican ticket, we will lose St. Louis. I believe I would add great weight to the ticket, if nominated, because of influence with these voters."

While John W. Palmer of Sedalia, running for Congressman, condemned Democratic policies, a woman in the audience cried out to ask him, "Are you wet or dry?"
but was quieted by others nearby.
Duncan G. Mellier, also running for Congress, who sat next to this woman, said a few minutes later that no candidate should appear before the people without telling how he stood on important issues.
Mellier declared himself on the prohibition issue by an emphatic statement that he was wet. Later he spoke for another congressional aspirant, Louis E. Miller, also a wet.

Teacher-Candidate Dry.
A spokesman for Carl Otto of Washington, who wants to go to Congress, too, said Otto was a wet and wanted economy in government. State Representative Walter C. Plosser, seeking re-election, recalled that he had been the "only one in the last session to introduce a bill to repeal the State bone-dry law." Eugene A. Hecker of Perguson, a teacher at St. Louis
Country Day School, running for Congress, was the only guest to come out openly as a dry.

A number of the candidates and spokesmen referred directly or indirectly to the need of nominating a strong Republican ticket in the hope of offsetting Democratic gains. There was comparatively little applause for President Hoover and national Republican policies, although speakers frequently brought in the President's name.

State Auditor Thompson, a candidate for Secretary of State, reminded the audience that he had voted last spring as a member of the State Board of Equalization to reduce the real estate assessments, including a 10 per cent cut in St.
Louis, and said if elected he would vote for another 10 per cent decrease in St. Louis. He said he had collected more than $4,000,000 in delinquent State income taxes—
"more delinquent tax collections than all officials in all State offices had collected since 1891." State
Treasurer Brunk, running for State Auditor, promised, if elected, to work for the suppression of State graft, and referred to the excessive number of clerks put on the payroll by members of the last Legislature. He said: "I don't know that there has been any great demand for me to run for office at any time."

Others Who Speak.
W. L. Cole of Union, running for Supreme Judge, related that as an Assistant Attorney-General he had written the opinion in the Goitra bargain line case which was approved by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.
Others who spoke were: David
W. Peters of Jefferson City, and

Edward F. Sharp of New Madrid, running for Supreme Judge; Keith McCane of Sunrise Beach, and James J. Barrett of St. Louis, running for Lieutenant-Governor; Mrs.
Susie A. Kolkmeier of Jefferson
City, and Mrs. Dora Hollenbeck
Farley of West Plains, running for Congress; Herman Ludy, Commissioner of the Permanent Seat of Government, running for State Treasurer; George T. Hackmann, former State Auditor, running for that office; State Representative
Alvin A. Wolf, Miss Georgina Baby and Munro Roberts, running for State Representatives, and spokesmen for Robert J. Kratky, running for Senator; Lieutenant-Governor
Winter, running for Governor; David P. Jones, running for Lieutenant-Governor; Congressman Rowland L. Johnston of Rolla, seeking re-election (represented by his wife), and Henry A. Ferriguy, running for State Auditor.

Consulate's Marijuana Destroyed.
By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, July 14.—A dispatch from Ciudad Juarez said yesterday that Federal narcotics agents had entered the United States Con-sulate there and destroyed some marijuana plants growing on the roof garden of the building. They explained to the consular officials that the growing of marijuana, a narcotic plant, for whatever purpose, was forbidden in Mexico.

U. S. LIFTS QUARANTINE AGAINST CORN BORER

Secretary Hyde Says Appropriation Is Inadequate—Expert Thinks Pest Unconquerable.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 14.—The quarantine on the corn borer will be lifted by the Department of Agriculture tomorrow.

Secretary Hyde announces that as the Congress cut the appropriation to fight the pest from $757,000 to $295,000, the quarantine would have to be raised.

The insect has cost the Federal Government around $20,000,000. This year the House Appropriations Committee decided that in the general economy campaign the allowance could be reduced, as Nils A. Olsen, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, testified:

"The corn borer has gotten away from us. We evidently cannot stamp it out. The present opinion of entomologists is that it is impossible to exterminate the pest and that it is likely to spread over the entire corn belt."

Back in 1918 the bug was brought into Massachusetts from abroad. Quarantine regulations were announced, but by 1921 the pest was into the Middle West.

In 1927 President Coolidge got a $10,000,000 appropriation to fight the borer. In 1928 he signed a bill for another $7,000,000. Since then, annual appropriations in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 had been made.

But the corn borer spread. Last year, Olsen told the House committee, the pest had extended to Northeastern Indiana and a substantial part of Michigan. Its progress was slowed somewhat by the drought.

The House Appropriations Committee had expected the reduction of $500,000 this year could be met by elimination of road patrol work. Secretary Hyde said, though, that the remaining $295,000 "is entirely inadequate to prevent the shipment or trucking of corn from the infected areas and to carry out the other measures essential for the protection of uninfested districts, and the department therefore has no choice but to cancel the regulations."

STOLEN GOODS FOUND ON SALE IN MAIN CLEVELAND STREET

Bold Effort to Dispose of Merchandise Frustrated by Daughter of Victim; Five Held.

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, July 14.—Five persons were held as suspects today in what police said was one of the boldest attempts ever made to dispose of stolen goods in this city.

The stolen merchandise, including furs, dresses, drapes and other articles, was found on sale in a downtown shop on Euclid avenue, the city's main business thoroughfare.

Three young women set out to do detective work after nearly 200 dresses were stolen from the Scher Frock Shop on the East Side. The girls were Edith Scher, 20 years old, daughter of the proprietor, and two clerks, Lillian Goodrich, 21, and Claire Bernstein, 24.

For several days they visited shops and stores in the chance of finding the stolen goods. Yesterday their efforts were rewarded. Recognizing several stolen dresses when they posed as customers in the Euclid avenue shop, one of the girls called the police.

The officers arrested the proprietors and two employees, and later arrested Peter Gualardi, 30, and his wife, Mildred, 24, as suspects of the thefts. The Gualardi pair were already under bond on a receiving stolen property charge.

IRISH FREE STATE TO FIGHT BACK AT BRITAIN ON TARIFF

Retaliation Planned in Emergency Bill Introduced in the Dail.

By the Associated Press.
DUBLIN, July 14.—The Irish Free States intends to meet the new British duties on its goods with a retaliatory tariff against Great Britain. It is announced.

The Free State Cabinet decided to start the tariff war by introducing an emergency bill in the Dail Eireann today to deal with the situation created by British duties of 20 per cent on the principal Free State exports, such as livestock, dairy products, bacon and pork.

The British duties were imposed to recover losses to the British Treasury caused by the Free State's default of land annuity payments. The bill, which would be rushed to passage this week, would confer on the Executive Council the same power as the British Government obtained from Parliament. The Council would be enabled to impose duties of an unspecified amount on any particular description.

ATTORNEY'S CLAIM AGAINST ESTATE UNDER ADVISEMENT

$50,000 Action by Counsel for Executor of Mary E. Culver Property.

A $50,000 claim against the estate of Mrs. Mary E. Culver, widow of Louis L. Culver, wealthy stove manufacturer, by George R. Durham, an attorney, was taken under advisement yesterday by Probate Judge Holtcamp.

Durham was attorney for the executor, Duran P. McCabe, and stated that he gave constant service to the estate for more than four years, during which he settled eight threatened contests and obtained a favorable verdict in a suit brought by two heirs in Federal Court. He admitted receiving fees of $84,500, but asked for $50,000 additional. Three attorneys testified for him that the fee he suggested was reasonable. Other attorneys testified for the estate that $30,000 to $100,000 would be adequate total compensation.

The present value of the estate is estimated at $550,000, with relatives named as principal beneficiaries. While the case was being heard in Probate Court, Durham filed suit in Circuit Court against the heirs for $50,000 in fees. One of the heirs was served in the case as he left the courtroom.

Bather Loses $2000 in Fire.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 14.—Max Sanger, 55 years old, of Newark, N.

J., would trust none but himself with his life savings of $2500. He took it along to the Coney Island Beach yesterday, hid it in his shoe and left it in a bathroom. The bathroom burned in the fire that swept the island.

MARKET ST. BUILDINGS TO BE WRECKED SOON

Two Old Landmarks to Go in Preparation for Widening.

The city will begin wrecking buildings which stand in the way of the Market street widening next Monday. It hopes to have the structures out of the way in time for paving to be carried out this autumn. There has been a disposition among owners of property which was taken for the widening to leave portions of their buildings which are in the right-of-way for the city to dispose of.

Market is to be widened between Vandeventer avenue and Seventh street, with a cutoff to Sixth and Walnut streets and extension in Walnut to Third street. Plans have not been made for paving west of Twentieth street. There are 63 buildings or groups of buildings in the way in the section between Eleventh and Third streets and all of these which are not removed by former owners will be taken over by the city as speedily as contracts can be let, said Assistant Comptroller Cunningham.

On Monday E. J. Murphy, contractor, who will be paid with the salvage, will start tearing down the former Blanke-Wennaker Candy Co. building at the southeast corner of Seventh and Market, and the Temple Building, an old landmark, at the northwest corner of Broadway and Walnut. In about two weeks a start will be made on removing a 40-foot slice from the front of Druids' Hall, another landmark, at the southeast corner of Ninth and Market. Lately this hall has been used occasionally as a gathering place for Communists, according to the police.

Late in May the city gave owners of property involved 30, 60 or 90 days to vacate, according to the size of the structures. A survey of the buildings to come down between Fifteenth and Eighteenth streets is being made, with the intention of starting wrecking there soon. The city owns and has cleared the right-of-way needed between Eleventh and Fifteenth streets and between Eighteenth and Twentieth streets.

WARRANTS IN $35 ROBBERY

Two Chauffeurs Accused of Holdup of County Oil Station.

Warrants were issued at Clayton today charging John Van Leon, 24 years old, and Charles Mundschien, 22, with first-degree robbery. The men, both chauffeurs, were arrested in St. Louis Tuesday night and identified by Harry Kopper, owner of a filling station at Olive Street road and Elmwood avenue, as the two who robbed him of $35 earlier that day.

STREET CAR MEETING DELAYED

City's Joint Transportation Committee to Assemble Wednesday.

The meeting of the city's Joint Transportation Committee announced for today was postponed until next Wednesday because of the absence from the city of President Stanley Clarke of the Public Service Co., and some other interested persons.

Mayor Miller, who had called the meeting, said he would not give out the text of the Public Service Co.'s proposal for sale of its property to the city until after next week's meeting, if at all.

CALLES' WIFE ON WAY HOME
Apparently Fully Recovered From Operation in Boston.
By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, July 14.—Senora Leonor Calles, wife of Gen. Plutarco Calles, former President of Mexico, apparently fully recovered from a recent brain operation, started back for Mexico City by way of New York at noon today.

Senora Calles and the official party, which includes her husband and others, are expected to arrive in the Mexican capital on the morning of July 15. Senora Calles was able to walk from the entrance of the South Station to the private car, resting only slightly on the arm of her husband. When she arrived in Boston several weeks ago she was removed through the car window on a stretcher.

YOUTH ARRESTED ADMITS SERIES OF BURGLARIES
Arrested Running Out of Movie Theater With $21 in Nickels
In Pockets.
Following the arrest early yesterday of a youth who gave his name as Clyde McKinley, 488A Devonshire avenue, police say he admitted a series of burglaries and one attempted robbery since last February. He was arrested as he ran out a rear door of the Roxy Theater, 508 Lansdowne avenue, and according to police, had $21 in nickels in his possession.

Burglaries he is said to have admitted are: Theft of the $21 in nickels from a vending machine shortly before his arrest; a similar theft at the theater April 4 in which $12 was stolen; two burglaries at the home of Walter Richardson, 5201 Nottingham avenue, Feb. 19 and 21, in which jewelry and firearms were taken; two burglaries at the home of Val L. Leblis, 5648 Sutherland avenue in March, in which firearms were stolen. He also said he attempted to hold up Arthur Welch, manager of a Piggy-Wiggly store at 5643 Devonshire avenue, April 16, according to police, but was forced to flee after firing one shot. A watch, revolver and other stolen property were recovered.

A man arrested Tuesday evening in the 4500 block of Page boulevard, with two revolvers in his automobile, has been identified, according to police, as one of two robbers who took $50 from Mrs. Frances Schimmel in her drug store at 4067 Shaw boulevard, Sunday morning, and as one of two who held up Cornelius Curran in his restaurant at 16 South Broadway last February, taking $34. He denied the charges.

10 PERSONS WOUNDED WHEN CARNIVAL TROUPE IS FIRED ON Three Taken to Hospital After Clash With Hoodlums in Maryland.

By the Associated Press.
MECHANICSVILLE, Md., July 14.—Ten members of a carnival troupe were wounded, three seriously enough to require hospital treatment, early today when a band of men described by police as "drunken hoodlums" fired on them from ambush.

The more seriously wounded, all of whom were taken to the Casualty Hospital in Washington, were: Clarence Lester Hill, 25 years old, of Greensburg, Pa.; Frank Blizard, 22, of Eakdale, W. Va.; Mrs. Ann Blizard, 22, of Eakdale, W. Va.

The trouble started last Saturday, members of the troupe said when citizens of Mechanicsville complained they were being "gyped." There was a fight and William Stanley, 21, of Four Oaks, N. C., operator of a bucket game was shot in the abdomen. He was taken to a Leonardtown (Md.) hospital in a serious condition. Preparations were being made by the troupe last night to leave Mechanicsville when the firing started.

RECEIVERSHIP SOUGHT FOR LOAN & INVESTMENT CO.
Stockholders Charge Certain Officers Mismanaged Affairs of Alliance Concern.
A petition for a receiver for the Alliance Loan and Investment Co., 1520 Franklin avenue, was filed in Circuit Court yesterday by Max Gayman, Louis Maltzman and Sol. Darsky, stockholders. It is alleged that certain officers have mismanaged the business in that they have permitted large loans to be made by the corporation without any security, that large salaries were paid to officers, although the company was losing money, and that loans were made to stockholders in violation of law. The capital stock is $50,000. J. H. Sparks is president of the company, and he with other officers are named as co-defendants. Neither Sparks nor J. Cohen, secretary, could be reached.

CONCRETE DUMPED IN STREET
Two Men Forced to Abandon Loaded Truck.
John Schmidt, 1827 North Twenty-fifth street, and Joseph Lindopp, 2282 Bristol avenue, Overland, employees of the Fred Schmidt Real Estate and Investment Co., were forced to get off one of the company's trucks at 2400 North Twenty-fifth street yesterday. Six men then dumped a load of concrete into the street.

Other trucks have been emptied recently by men supposedly involved in labor difficulties arising out of a strike of truck drivers for concrete companies.

ADVOCATES PART-TIME JOBS
Coal Club Head Makes Suggestions to Members.
The Coal Club, an organization of St. Louis fuel dealers, has sent letters to its members urging them to employ as many workers as possible a few days each week rather than provide steady employment for fewer workers.

The letters, signed by E. J. Wallace, president of the club, suggest that a little work will furnish food, fuel and shelter for families that would otherwise be in need.

Robert Sydney Smith, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Smith, 2311 Lincoln avenue, East St. Louis, and one of the "five Smith brothers" of Washington University, has returned from Oxford University, England, where he earned the degree of Bachelor of Science.

He did two years of research in pathology, as a Rhodes scholar, and visited a number of famous European clinics. At the University of Munich he did some special work in pathology and at the University of Edinburgh special work in surgery. A summary of his experimental work has been accepted by Surgery Gynecology and Obstetrics, an American surgical journal, for publication.

Before going to Oxford, Smith had taken three years of a medical course at Washington University. He will return to Washington this autumn for his final year. He and his four brothers have gained considerable attention in their successive enrollments at Washington. At Oxford, Smith won his "blue" on the lacrosse team.

U. S. SWIMMERS
SELECTED FOR 100-METER RACE
AT THE OLYMPICS

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, July 14.—Albert Schwartz of the Illinois A. C. Chicago; Ray Thompson of the Naval Academy, and Manella Kallil of Honolulu today qualified to represent the United States in the 100-meter free style swimming sprint of the coming Olympic games.

They placed by taking the first three positions in the final of the 100-meters in the American Olympic trials here, but they had to fight all the way. Inches separated them from three other contestants at the finish line.

Earlier it had been announced the members of the United States team would not be announced until the close of the trials Saturday.

Robert Kiputh of Yale, the Olympic coach, however, said the placing three would be qualified.

A special time trial was granted Jack McGuire, University of Iowa, who failed to reach here for trials yesterday, but he could not make the grade.

Johnny Weissmuller stood on the sidelines, an outsider, while the boys who would be king lashed out in the waters of Coney Island Pool in efforts to eclipse at least one of the many marks held by the retired sovereign of amateur swimming.

ST. LOUIS GIRLS
READY FOR TEST
AT CHICAGO IN OLYMPIC TRIALS

By Damon Kerby.

Augmented by the arrival of two out-of-town members of the squad, the St. Louis girls' team which will compete in the National A. A. U. championships and Olympic tryouts at Chicago Saturday went through its last arduous workout yesterday afternoon at Francis Field. The girls may don track clothes again this afternoon, but only for the purpose of limbering up.

Out-of-town girls who joined the squad in training yesterday were Lucille Douglass of Senath, Mo., and Elnora Kinchen of Arbutot High School, near Senath, which is located about 250 miles south of St. Louis, according to the girls. Miss Douglass is entered in the high jump and Miss Kinchen in the 80-meter hurdles.

"Dark Horse" From Kinchen. Spectators watched with interest the work of Miss Kinchen in going over the hurdles. A slender, active girl of only 15 years old, she showed excellent form in her workout. She said she had been

GOSLIN'S SINGLE TIES
SCORE IN THE NINTH;
HARRIS GETS HOMER

By James M. Gould.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Two left-handers were opposed this afternoon as Carl Fischer, hurled for the Browns and Lloyd Brown for the Senators, in the opening game of a four-game series.

Fischer, a former Senator with one victory over his old team was anxious to make it two. Brown had just as much at stake for he is the only Washington pitcher to beat the Browns this season. Seven times other of Walter Johnson's pitchers have failed.

Art Scharen was at third for the Browns in place of Storti. The estimated attendance was 1000.

The game:
FIRST — BROWNS — Schulte was out. Kuehl to Brown on first. Burns walked. Campbell doubled off the right field fence, scoring Burns. Goslin walked. Ferrell singled to left, scoring Campbell. Goslin stopping at second. Melillo forced Ferrell. Myer to Cronin. Goslin going to third. Scharen forced Melillo. Bluge to Myer. TWO RUNS.

WASHINGTON — Kuehl walked. Levey made a great running catch of Myer's ball. Melillo threw out Manush. Kuehl going to second. Cronin tripped to right, scoring Kuehl. Melillo threw out Harris. ONE RUN.

SECOND — BROWNS — Levey grounded to Kuehl. Fischer grounded to Cronin. Schulte singled to right. Burns bounced to Kuehl. Bluge fouled to Burns. Spencer sent a long fly to Schulte. Brown struck out.

THIRD — BROWNS — Campbell tripped to right center. Goslin popped to Kuehl. Ferrell walked. Myer threw out Melillo. Campbell scoring. Washington appeared to have a sure double play, but Kuehl calmly held the ball and let Ferrell go to second. Brown threw out Scharen. ONE RUN.

WASHINGTON — Kuehl bunted and was thrown out by Scharen. Myer popped to Melillo. Manush filed to Schulte.

FOURTH — BROWNS — Levey grounded to Cronin. Fischer was out the same way. Schulte popped to Kuehl.

WASHINGTON — Goslin lost Cronin's fly in the sun and it went for a double. Harris fouled to Ferrell. Fischer tossed out West. Cronin holding second. Bluge walked. Goslin made a remarkable diving catch of Spencer's line drive to left.

FIFTH — BROWNS — Burns filed to West. Campbell also filed to West. Goslin grounded to Myer. Washington — Brown struck out. Kuehl lined to Campbell. Myer walked. Manush filed to Campbell.

SIXTH — BROWNS — Ferrell sent a long fly to West. Melillo singled to left. Scharen filed to West. Melillo was out stealing. Spencer to Myer.

WASHINGTON — Cronin walked. Harris tied the score with a tremendous home run into the center field seats. Schulte bailing up for the ball, crashed heavily into the stands and was knocked unconscious. Play was stopped and players of both teams rushed to help Schulte. Schulte was finally able to get up and decided after a rest to stay in the game. He was knocked out for about five minutes. West filed to Campbell. Bluge tripped to left. Spencer walked. The squeeze failed, and Bluge was run down and retired. Ferrell to Scharen to Levey. Spencer was out. Cronin dropped the ball. Brown lined to Levey. TWO RUNS.

SEVENTH — BROWNS — Bluge made a great play on Levey's slow bouncer and threw him out. Fischer singled to left. Schulte hit to Myer and Fischer was safe at second when Cronin dropped the ball. Burns forced Schulte. Myer to Cronin. Campbell filed to West.

WASHINGTON — Kuehl bounced out to Burns. Myer popped to Levey. Manush singled to left. Manush stole second, went to third on Ferrell's low throw and scored when Schulte made a low throw home. Cronin doubled down this third base line. Fischer was relieved by Hadley. Harris struck out. ONE RUN.

EIGHTH — BROWNS — Goslin filed to Harris. Ferrell singled to left. Melillo filed to West. Ferrell stole second. Scharen walked. Levey also walked, filling the bases. Brown was taken out and Marberry relieved him for Washington. G. Fisher batted for Hadley and filed to West.

WASHINGTON — Kimsey was the third St. Louis pitcher. West singled to center. Bluge bunted, but forced West. Kimsey to Levey. Spencer singled to center, sending Bluge to third. Marberry hit to Kimsey and Bluge was run down between third and home. Kimsey at Scharen to Ferrell. Spencer went to the play. Levey threw out Kuehl.

NINTH — BROWNS — Rice went to right field for Washington. Schulte walked. Burns singled through Sewell, sending Schulte to third. Campbell struck out. Goslin singled to center. Scharen walked. Levey and sending Burns to third. Ferrell popped to Myer. Melillo was called out on strikes. ONE RUN.

WASHINGTON — Myer filed to Goslin. Manush doubled to center. Cronin fouled to Ferrell. Rice lined to Levey.

TENTH — BROWNS — Storti batted for Scharen and hit off the score board in right. The hit would have been a double, but Storti pulled up home just after he crossed first and had to hop back to first. After a short rest Storti continued in the game. Levey forced Storti. Cronin to Myer. Kimsey singled to right, sending Levey to third. Schulte popped to Cronin in short center and when Levey tried to curve after the catch he was doubled at the plate. Cronin to Spencer.

WASHINGTON — Kuehl bounced out to Burns. Myer popped to Levey. Manush singled to left. Manush stole second, went to third on Ferrell's low throw and scored when Schulte made a low throw home. Cronin doubled down this third base line. Fischer was relieved by Hadley. Harris struck out. ONE RUN.

EIGHTH — BROWNS — Goslin filed to Harris. Ferrell singled to left. Melillo filed to West. Ferrell stole second. Scharen walked. Levey also walked, filling the bases. Brown was taken out and Marberry relieved him for Washington. G. Fisher batted for Hadley and filed to West.

WASHINGTON — Kimsey was the third St. Louis pitcher. West singled to center. Bluge bunted, but forced West. Kimsey to Levey. Spencer singled to center, sending Bluge to third. Marberry hit to Kimsey and Bluge was run down between third and home. Kimsey at Scharen to Ferrell. Spencer went to the play. Levey threw out Kuehl.

NINTH — BROWNS — Rice went to right field for Washington. Schulte walked. Burns singled through Sewell, sending Schulte to third. Campbell struck out. Goslin singled to center. Scharen walked. Levey and sending Burns to third. Ferrell popped to Myer. Melillo was called out on strikes. ONE RUN.

WASHINGTON — Myer filed to Goslin. Manush doubled to center. Cronin fouled to Ferrell. Rice lined to Levey.

TENTH — BROWNS — Storti batted for Scharen and hit off the score board in right. The hit would have been a double, but Storti pulled up home just after he crossed first and had to hop back to first. After a short rest Storti continued in the game. Levey forced Storti. Cronin to Myer. Kimsey singled to right, sending Levey to third. Schulte popped to Cronin in short center and when Levey tried to curve after the catch he was doubled at the plate. Cronin to Spencer.

EIGHTH — BROWNS — Goslin filed to Harris. Ferrell singled to left. Melillo filed to West. Ferrell stole second. Scharen walked. Levey also walked, filling the bases. Brown was taken out and Marberry relieved him for Washington. G. Fisher batted for Hadley and filed to West.

WASHINGTON — Kimsey was the third St. Louis pitcher. West singled to center. Bluge bunted, but forced West. Kimsey to Levey. Spencer singled to center, sending Bluge to third. Marberry hit to Kimsey and Bluge was run down between third and home. Kimsey at Scharen to Ferrell. Spencer went to the play. Levey threw out Kuehl.

NINTH — BROWNS — Rice went to right field for Washington. Schulte walked. Burns singled through Sewell, sending Schulte to third. Campbell struck out. Goslin singled to center. Scharen walked. Levey and sending Burns to third. Ferrell popped to Myer. Melillo was called out on strikes. ONE RUN.

WASHINGTON — Myer filed to Goslin. Manush doubled to center. Cronin fouled to Ferrell. Rice lined to Levey.

TENTH — BROWNS — Storti batted for Scharen and hit off the score board in right. The hit would have been a double, but Storti pulled up home just after he crossed first and had to hop back to first. After a short rest Storti continued in the game. Levey forced Storti. Cronin to Myer. Kimsey singled to right, sending Levey to third. Schulte popped to Cronin in short center and when Levey tried to curve after the catch he

U. S. EQUESTRIAN TEAM HOPING TO GAIN ITS FIRST OLYMPIC VICTORY

By the Associated Press. SAN DIEGO, Cal. July 14.—The United States Olympic equestrian team, through its manager, Col. C. L. Scott, served notice today it was conceding nothing to more experienced horsemen from abroad as it went into the final phase of its training at Fort Rosecrans. The United States never has won an equestrian event in the Olympic games, the best showing being made in her first competition in 1912, when the American team finished second in the grueling three-day event and third in the prize of nations high jumping.

This year, however, with Maj. H. D. Chamberlain, regarded as one of the world's best riders, as its key man and a group of army-owned and highly trained horses at the peak of condition, Col. Scott is optimistic.

THE CHAMPAGNE OF GINGER ALES

AT NO EXTRA COST

5 FULL GLASSES OF CANADA DRY FOR ONLY 20¢

PLUS 5c BOTTLE DEPOSIT (SLIGHTLY HIGHER IN SOME PLACES FOR KING, DELIVERY OR OTHER SPECIAL SERVICES)

It's JUST because Canada Dry is as different from other ginger ales as champagne is from other wines that it's called "The Champagne of Ginger Ales."

There's more life to it... a subtle blend... and a zestful tang that have never been successfully equaled.

Yei, with the new Canada Dry policy of bottle refunds, this fine old beverage can be bought for the price of ordinary ginger ales!

Bring back your Canada Dry bottles. At no extra cost enjoy The Champagne of Ginger Ales.

Try a glass of Canada Dry made-to-order at the fountain too.

EVERY MONDAY AND WEDNESDAY—Jack Benny, inimitable master of ceremonies—George Olsen's Music and Ethel Shutta—a half-hour of sparkling wit and music. 7:30 P.M. (Central Standard Time) over WJZ and associated N.B.C. stations. A new radio program as distinctive as The Champagne of Ginger Ales.

ROCKNE SIX

SPONSORED AND GUARANTEED BY STUDEBAKER

Again a new sales record... watch Rockne GO!

$585

ROCKNE sales in May increased 29% over April! That gain means cars sold to the public—not cars produced in the hope of sales!

Rockne's May percentage of gain is 237.3% ahead of the industry's! Rockne registrations for June, not yet available, will show a still greater increase.

The reason is obvious. The roomy, aerodynamic Rockne is smarter—and faster... on the getaway... and on the straightaway. It streaks up steep hills in high... rounds corners at speeds other cars don't dare.

You get Free Wheeling, Full Synchronized Shifting, Automatic Switch-Key Starting, 4-Point Cushioned Power. Come in and go for a trial drive today!

Says He Does Not See How Albert Walker Did All He Declared He Did in 10 Minutes.

INVESTIGATION OF FINGERPRINTS MADE Possibility That Marauder Killed Tobacco Heir Is Considered—Grand Jury Does Not Act.

By the Associated Press.
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., July 14.—Bit by bit Sheriff Transou Scott has added to his evidence in the investigation into the fatal shooting of Smith Reynolds, heir to the R. J. Reynolds tobacco fortune, but there was no indication today that a solution was near.
A section of door jamb from the bathroom connecting with the bedroom of Libby Holman, Broadway singer and widow of Reynolds, was removed for preservation.
Finger prints were found on the section underneath what seemed to be bloody finger marks. The blood-stained marks were described by J. Erle McMichael, assistant solicitor, as too indistinct for comparison. The finger prints below were clear. McMichael told the coroner's jury that they did not correspond with any of the prints made of all persons known to have been in the Reynolds home for the gay party that preceded the shooting.

It was admitted officially that the finger prints being preserved might have been made at any time within the recent past.
Possibility of Marauder.
Checking every lead that might afford the slightest information regarding the death, attributed by the coroner's jury to "unknown parties" after an original suicide verdict had been invalidated, officers admitted they had not overlooked the remote possibility that an outsider, a marauder, might have been concerned.

They have mentioned the testimony of C. Raymond Kramer, Long Island tutor of Reynolds, that Reynolds rushed out at 10:30 p. m. when Kramer drove up in his automobile and asked the latter about another automobile which Reynolds thought had entered the premises about the same time. Kramer said he saw no indication of the other car and there was no mention of the circumstance by any other witnesses.

Sheriff Scott said he did not see how Albert Walker, chum of Reynolds, could have done everything he testified he did in the 10 minutes between the time an ambulance was called and the time Walker arrived at a hospital with Reynolds in a private automobile after deciding the ambulance would be too slow.

Nor did he understand the apparent bullet hole in a window through which was not in line with other evidence concerning the direction of the bullet which pierced the young millionaire's brain.
The pistol with which Reynolds was killed was found lying in plain sight near where Reynolds fell, four hours after the shooting, despite the testimony at the inquest of W. E. Fulcher, night watchman, that he made a thorough search of the room immediately following the shooting without finding the weapon.

The Shooting Year Ago.
Officers indicated they had not discarded the inquiry into the incident at Fort Washington, L. I., nearly a year ago in which a pilot was discharged in a house rented by Libby Holman. The first report was that the bullet made a hole in Reynolds' shirt.
Mrs. Reynolds described the incident to the coroner's jury, but she denied the bullet had pierced the clothing of her future husband. She said she pulled the trigger on the insistence of Reynolds, who sought to demonstrate how the trigger of the revolver could be pulled without firing the weapon, by leaving an empty cylinder under the hammer. Something went wrong with Smith's arrangements, she said, and the weapon was discharged, but without danger to him.

The county grand jury met yesterday but did not consider the Reynolds case. It convenes again July 25.
A persistent rumor to the effect Reynolds' body was not in the casket placed in the family vault Friday was denied today by the undertaking firm in charge of the burial. The rumor had it the instrument was ordered deferred in a message from R. J. Reynolds Jr., who was cruising off the African coast when notified of his brother's death.

No definite information was available with regard to the return of R. J. Jr., known generally as Dick, but a member of the family said he understood Reynolds could not reach here before probably Wednesday or Thursday of next week.
Reynolds' widow returned to Cincinnati, O., her home city, yesterday.
Walker, who was said by witnesses to have been seen coming out of a woods with Mrs. Reynolds near the house a few minutes before the shooting, but who said Mrs. Reynolds was upstairs with Reynolds when the shot was fired, was not to be found.

Doctor Prescribes Claim Against Estate of Another Doctor Whose Family Is Treated.
The question of ethics in the medical profession—respecting treatment of the families of physicians figured in a hearing in Probate Judge Holtkamp's court yesterday on the $1334 claim of Dr. William F. A. Schults against the estate of Dr. Andrew B. Nichols. Judge Holtkamp took the case under advisement.

Part of the code of the American Medical Association was read into the evidence by Dr. F. A. Steiner, a witness for the estate, to show that as it was not deemed advisable for physicians to treat members of their own families, some fellow member of the profession should be asked to furnish treatment and should do so gratuitously. Physicians put on the stand by Dr. Schults's attorneys testified there was nothing in the code forbidding a physician to charge where the other physician was willing and able to pay and was out of the practice of medicine. The bill included charges for special treatment of both Dr. Nichols and his wife. Credit for payment of $125 had already been given.

Judge Holtkamp said the rule of free treatment was merely a suggestion and did not control the law. Dr. Nichols, who lived at 4044 Washington boulevard, died last January, leaving an estate of $5088.

'GLOWING REPORT' BY DUN

Other Favorable Comments on Credit Disclosed at New York Bankruptcy Hearing.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 14.—Favorable credit reports on the Kreuger & Toll Co. made by representatives of domestic and foreign banks and a "glowing report" by R. G. Dun & Co. were introduced yesterday at a hearing before Henry K. Davis, referee in bankruptcy. Creditors of Kreuger & Toll, one of the late Ivar Kreuger's interests, are seeking a receivership.

The Dun report was confidential and was not made public. Nicholas Murphy, assistant cashier of the Chase National Bank, testified credits were extended to Kreuger & Toll by the bank on the basis of the favorable reports received from Dun and other companies.

He was questioned on reports in the bank's credit department extending back as far as 1926. All commented favorably, including those of the Gotesborg Bank of Sweden and the Svenska Handelsbank.

"The Kreuger & Toll Co. is under very responsible and capable management," a foreign representative of the Chase Bank reported in 1927, and in spite of foreign operations the company is fully good for its engagements."

William M. Geddes Dies.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 14.—William M. Geddes, 75 years old, for many years treasury officer in charge of national expositions, died today in a local sanitarium. Expositions under his supervision included the Trans-Mississippi Exposition at Omaha, in 1898, and the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis in 1904. A native of Zanesville, O., Mr. Geddes was reared in Illinois and was formerly a newspaper publisher.

U. S. FLYERS BACK IN BERLIN
By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, July 14.—Bennett Griffin and James Mattern, United States flyers whose attempts to fly around the world ended in a Russian post bag last week, came back to Berlin today on the way home.
A crowd cheered them as they stepped from the regular Moscow passenger plane. Neither appeared downcast over the failure. "At least," said Mattern, "we are glad to have accomplished the first flight straight to Berlin in recent time. We are going to stay here a few days to see the sights and then start home. Next spring we'll try again."

LONDON, July 14.—Enlightened leaders were greeted today by the French press with the news that the new British agreement announced yesterday. (This agreement) was confuted with the "geographical" entered into negotiations receiving reparations (Germany).

Premier Herriot told the Committee of the Chamber of Deputies that the fact was not to the United States negotiations on war debts, Sir John Simon announced according to Parliament yesterday it had nothing to do with debts to the United States.

Official Announcement.
It was officially stated that the Prime Minister's office there was no truth in the statement that the new treaty applicable to the matter of debts to the United States.

The statement said: "The use of the words 'regime' in the accord explains the House of Commons' statement," said the statement.

"He said: 'In view of the results likely to follow representations made in America, that the House of Commons should do something in the nature of a ultimatum to the United States to make it absolute that all that was done at the conference of Europe, which was a failure, and the proposals which the nation presented there believe are not possible.'"

"It is too early to guess the significance of the French statement," says the Manchester Guardian. "There are many signs that blessed word 'all'."

"The other European can only welcome, and only accept this agreement as it is inclusive and means a revival of a French 'entente.'"

Some Opposition to the London newspaper disposition to oppose the accord. The discussion of the question of interpretation of the new agreement means.

The Daily Express, launched an attack on the accord, calling it as prejudicing the imperial conference which is to be held at Ottawa, Canada, next week.

The paper goes on to say that the accord is a "renewal of the old agreement of 1904, which was a failure, and the proposals which the nation presented there believe are not possible."'

Comment in Favor of the accord as the beginning of a new spirit in Europe.

The Telegraph welcomed the agreement as a step towards the strengthening of the cooperation arising from the new spirit in Europe.

The News-Chronicle says: "The accord is a very important step towards the strengthening of the cooperation arising from the new spirit in Europe."

ment Points Out.By the Associated Press.
LONDON, July 14.—English political leaders were greatly disturbed today by the French interpretation of the new Franco-British agreement announced yesterday. (This agreement is not to be confused with the "gentlemen's agreement" entered into by the nations receiving reparations from Germany.)

Premier Herriot told the Finance Committee of the Chamber of Deputies that the fact would enable Europe to present a united front to the United States in negotiations on war debts, but when Sir John Simon announced the agreement to Parliament yesterday he said it had nothing whatever to do with debts to the United States.

Official Announcement.
It was officially stated today by the Prime Minister's office that there was no truth in any statement that the new treaty is applicable to the matter of British debts to the United States.

The statement said: "In connection with reports which have been put into circulation as to the interpretation of the Anglo-French declaration to which other Governments have been invited to adhere, there is no truth in any statement that it is applicable to the question of British debts to the United States of America."

The use of the words "European regime" in the accord expressly excludes from its purview any question affecting non-European countries."

The Prime Minister explained the whole question in his speech to the House of Commons on Tuesday evening, said the statement.

"He said: 'In view of the grave results likely to follow upon any representations made, either in or out of America, that at Lausanne Europe has combined to pressure something in the nature of an ultimatum to the United States, I want to make it absolutely clear that all that was done at Lausanne was to straighten out the internal difficulties of Europe, which in all circumstances are many, and to serve proposals which the nations represented there believe are both essential and possible.'"

"It is too early to guess the full significance of the Franco-British accord," says the Manchester Guardian. "There are many reasons why that blessed word 'co-operation' is so important."

The other European Powers can only welcome, and we can only accept this agreement if it is really to be inclusive and does not mean a revival of a Franco-British entente."

Some Opposition to Pact.
Some London newspapers show a disposition to oppose the new accord. The discussions generally maintain the question of the apparent difference of interpretation of what new agreement means.

The Daily Express, launching an attack on the accord, regards it as a step toward the work of the Imperial conference about to begin at Ottawa, Canada. The newspaper asks whether it was a coincidence or an intention "that the momentous announcement" was made on the day the ship sailed for Canada with the British delegation to the conference.

The Daily Herald, labor organ, says Sir John Simon's announcement "will require a great deal of elucidation before it meets with the approval of progressive opinion in this country." "It leaves much unsaid," the paper complained.

The paper goes on to quote Premier Herriot as falling the accord as a resurrection of the old Entente Cordiale, the Franco-British agreement of 1904, by which France and Great Britain settled their positions in Northern Africa, Great Britain assuming dominance over Egypt and France over Morocco.

Comment in Favor of Accord.
Some other papers, however, hail the accord as the beginning of a new spirit in Europe.

The Telegraph welcomes it as a step toward the spirit of co-operation arising from the Lausanne agreement.

The News-Chronicle says it considers Sir John Simon's statement extremely important in that it showed France was ready to cooperate practically with Great Britain to a degree not apparent for long to the world.

"It is excellent," the News-Chronicle says, "without any qualification, if it is further implied—as in fact it is—that other countries may join this new co-

SAO PAULO TO END REVOLTRio de Janeiro Government Authorizes Credit of $1,500,000 to Pay for Campaign—
Rebels Destroying Bridges.By the Associated Press.
RIO DE JANEIRO, July 14.—The Brazilian Government today had bottled the Sao Paulo revolt within the borders of that state and it proceeded immediately to follow up its advantage by mobilizing men, money and munitions to complete the task of putting the rebellion down.

Confidence was expressed that this would be accomplished soon. A credit of $1,500,000 was decreed to meet the expense of the campaign.

The Government announced that Sao Paulo, which is as big as Iowa and Illinois together, was being attacked on all sides by troops from the states of Minas Geraes, Parana, Rio de Janeiro and even Matto Grosso, which was reported to be siding with the rebels.

The navy has blockaded the sea coast, including the principal Sao Paulo port, Santos, which is the greatest coffee port in the world.

In the meantime, however, Rio de Janeiro is deprived of meats, vegetables and other supplies for which it depends on Sao Paulo.

The Government announced the rebels took the defensive last night, destroying bridges, highways and railway lines.

Former President of Ecuador Imprisoned for Plot.
By the Associated Press.
GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, July 14.—Col. Luis Larrea Alba, temporary President of Ecuador for two months last year, was imprisoned yesterday when the Government heard of a military plot to make him dictator of the country.

Several officers of the garrison at Loja, including Commander Bolivar Valdivieso, were arrested. A soldier gave information of the rebellious units to the Government.

Documents taken from the conspirators, a dispatch from Quito said, disclosed a plan involving several garrisons whereby a coup would have been attempted tomorrow. Less than a year ago, while Alba was Provisional President, soldiers attempted to set him up as dictator, bombarding a barracks and shooting down four persons.

operation; and not only may, but are eagerly invited to do so."

As quoted here, Herriot said: "In the future no problem affecting the interests of France and Great Britain can be treated separately by either Government. The immediate consequence of the new pact will be that Great Britain cannot as in 1923, undertake in the future to make payment to the United States for settlement of debts without previously consulting the French Government."

The certainty of a concerted attitude is henceforth an acquired fact which will facilitate success in negotiations with Washington.

The apparent difference of interpretation recalled that the Daily Herald last Friday asserted that four secret agreements had been reached at Lausanne, including one "agreement by three Powers that none of them will make any settlement with the United States contrary to the interests of the others."

At the time, the story went unconfirmed.

Ceremony for Edward Tuck to be Held on His Ninetieth Birthday.

PARIS, July 14.—The Municipal Council decided yesterday to make Edward Tuck, wealthy American who has lived here since 1890, a citizen of Paris for his services to France.

The ceremony will take place on his ninetieth birthday.

Tuck, who was born in Exeter, N. H., in 1842, established the St. Helier Hospital at Rueil, in the Department of Seine-et-Oise, near Paris, and turned it over to the French army at the outbreak of hostilities in 1914.

He indulged in numerous philanthropies. The French Government already has recognized his benefactions by awarding him the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor.

After attending Phillips-Exeter Academy, he was graduated from Dartmouth College and became a clerk in the United States consulate in Paris in 1864. Two years later he returned to the United States and made a fortune in banks and railways.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Rand, McNally & Co. reports the first two weeks in July show that new and reopened banks are maintaining the steady increase begun in March. For this week the increase is 55 per cent over the corresponding period in 1931. Every month since March the number of new and reopened banks has been greater than in the corresponding months a year ago.Protest on Mail by Freight.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Secretary of the Treasury Mills yesterday announced an issue of $75,000,000 worth of Treasury 91-day bills dated July 20 in denominations ranging from $1000 to $1,000,000. Tenders will be received at the Federal Reserve banks and branches until Monday. The bills will be sold on a discount basis to highest bidders and will bear no interest.

Recalls Ambassador at Buenos Aires and Tells Envoy of Neighbor at Montevideo to Leave.By the Associated Press.
BUENOS AIRES, July 14.—The Government of Uruguay announced yesterday that it had severed diplomatic relations with Argentina.

The Uruguay Government took this action because Argentina showed a disposition to believe reports that Gen. Severo Toranzo, former commander of the Argentine Army and now an exile in Uruguay, was aboard the cruiser Uruguay when it came to Buenos Aires to assist in the celebration of Argentine Independence day, July 9.

The report that Toranzo was aboard the ship proved erroneous. Last night Uruguay recalled its Ambassador at Buenos Aires and invited the Argentine Ambassador to leave Montevideo.

Confidence was expressed here that the breach would be healed soon, but in the meantime, it was said, the problem of preserving order in Argentina would be more difficult because the break means an end to the cooperation of Uruguay in keeping suspected agitators out of this country.

Many times since the revolution of 1930 Argentina has appealed to its neighbor republic to prevent the formation of Argentine revolutionary plots across the border.

Officers of the Uruguayan vessel complained when they returned home that they had been given a cold reception and that plain clothes men had followed them during their stay here.

Argentine scouting vessels, in view of the report that the exiled commander was aboard the Uruguayan cruiser July 9, met the ship far outside the port. Special guards were placed on the docks at Buenos Aires, ostensibly as a courtesy.

Paraguay Urged Not to Leave
Peace Conference.
By the Associated Press.
ASUNCION, Paraguay, July 14.—The five neutral nations at the conference in Washington which is seeking to bring about peace between Bolivia and Paraguay over the Gran Chaco boundary, sent a note to the Paraguay Government today asking it to modify its decision to withdraw from the conference.

The withdrawal was decided on after a clash between Bolivian and Paraguayan troops on June 15. The note added that a similar request was being made of Bolivia.

The general impression here is that Paraguay will insist that its delegates return home.

President in England.By the Associated Press.
BULGRAVE MANOR, England, July 14.—Ambassador Andrew W. Mellon spoke here today at the ancestral home of George Washington as a part of the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of Washington's birth.

"The first President," said he, "did not seek to make America self-contained. In matters of foreign policy he urged independence without isolation, co-operation without alliance. Another of his chief concerns was the establishment of the public credit. But the deep impress which he left was due to the sheer force of his character."

TELLS OF TRAVELSHarry Woodruff Testifies
He Never Heard of Law
Requiring Written Authority for Expenses.By CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 14.—Employees of the office of Secretary of State Charles U. Becker testified in depositions taken here yesterday that the law requiring specific written authority for persons traveling at State expense and limiting the amount they should expend had been persistently ignored in the office.

The testimony was taken in a suit by Harry Woodruff, a clerk under Becker, against the Post-Dispatch, growing out of the publication of a report of a recent campaign speech by former State Senator William C. Irwin criticizing Becker. Woodruff complained of a statement by Irwin that Woodruff in one month had collected $352 for expenses, contending the expense account covered five months.

There is a State law requiring that any State employee traveling at public expense shall have from the head of his department a written authority stating the nature of the duty to be performed and the counties and places to be visited, and that the written authority shall state the maximum amount per day that may be expended for food and lodging.

Received Instructions Orally.
Woodruff, who said he never heard of the law, testified he never had been provided with written authority or instructions for his trips, and that he received his instructions orally.

O. G. Steininger, motor vehicle commissioner under Becker, testified that he had sent Woodruff and other employees out frequently on trips and that he had never given them written instructions of authority.

It was further developed in Steininger's testimony that there is no check in the office of Secretary of State on the expense accounts, which he approves nearly all expense accounts, whether the expense was incurred on official business.

Steininger testified that employees under his supervision traveled extensively, but that he made no report to the chief clerk of their assignments, and except in rare instances he was not consulted before expense accounts were approved. He made no official record and kept no memoranda as to the assignment of employees away from Jefferson City, and the employees rarely made written reports to him as to the outcome of their missions. They reported in person or by telephone, he testified.

Steininger was questioned as to the number of employees in the branch automobile license offices in St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph and other cities, but replied that he did not have the information.

50 Men in the St. Louis Office.
R. C. Donaldson, chief clerk under Becker, had testified, however, that at the present time there were 50 employees in the St. Louis office, through the peak of the automobile licensing period ended three months ago and the licenses issued after the peak are limited largely to new cars sold.

Both Donaldson and Steininger testified they were unable to give the number of licenses issued per month. Steininger said that it was the experience of the office that business "picked up" in August and September.

Two Ceremonies at Municipal Airport

Field Ceremony.

The cornerstone of the $150,000 terminal building, which will complete $2,000,000 bond issue expenditures at Lambert-St. Louis Field was laid yesterday by Miss Myrtle Lambert, daughter of Albert Boni Lambert, founder of the field.

Fifteen years ago, wrote Maj. William B. Robertson, one of the field's early pilots, in a letter which was sealed in the cornerstone, he, Maj. Lambert and Frank Robertson, had sat on a haystack on the site of the terminal building and dreamed an improbable dream of a modern airport on what then was an unimproved 150-acre field.

Beside the corner stone stood A. T. Perkins and others of the committee, who, with Maj. Lambert, donated overalls 10 years ago and buckled to the task of clearing the field of lumber, tin cans and a miscellaneous litter in preparation for the Pulitzer trophy races of 1923, which gave the field its first impetus in the development of what might fairly be called an airport.

Dream Has Been Realized.
The dream of 15 years ago, improbable as it was, as speakers said yesterday, has been more than consummated. The airport has been transformed even beyond the fondest fancies of 1917, when its most famous pilot, Col. Lindbergh, made his epochal flight to Paris. The few inadequate hangars and lunch shacks of that day have been replaced by buildings and ultra-modern equipment valued at nearly $5,000,000, and the field is the only airport in the country to obtain the highest rating of the Department of Commerce.

The 35,000 pounds of air mail handled through Lambert-St. Louis Field in 1931, said Postmaster Michener, had increased 150 per cent by 1932, 417 per cent in 1931 and 495 per cent for 1932, as based on the first six months. The latest report of Field Manager Parks showed that 322,264 pounds of air mail was handled in the fiscal year ending last April, 24,113 passengers arrived or departed by the air liners, which made 37 scheduled daily arrivals and take-offs; 85 ships and 175 pilots made the field their headquarters, and 75,000 persons visited it in the year.

"Airport Second to None."
In the words of Edwin B. Melaner, chairman of the Bond Issue Committee, and of the cornerstones laying, the ceremony signified fulfillment of a pledge Ambassadors and an assemblage of 2000 were the central figures today in an impressive ceremony at Westminister Cathedral where a high mass of Requiem was sung for former King Manuel of Portugal.

TOKIO, July 14.—The Japanese Government has unmistakably indicated to the League of Nations Manchurian Investigating Commission that it is determined to recognize the independence of Manchuria as soon as it feels the developments of the new regime warrant it.

After that, Japan will decline to negotiate further with China or the League of Nations on the status of Manchuria.

The League Commissioners held a final conference today with Foreign Minister Uchida. Conference have been going on for a week. Secrecy was maintained about details, but it was stated officially that Uchida had outlined Japan's intentions to all five commissioners, including the American member, Gen. McCoy, and all five had expressed "a friendly concern" over Japan's contemplated course.

Later an official source said: "The commissioners were informed of Japan's decision to reject any Manchurian settlement involving the restoration of Chinese administration there."

The commissioners plan to leave here for Peking Saturday. They declined to discuss the results of their visit to Tokio, but they evidently were discouraged.

Man's Inhumanity to Man.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
W. O. N. T. we ever wake up to the true conditions of affairs and learn the cure for all our troubles? When the Scotchman Burns said: "Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn," he told in eight words the real and only cause of all depression. All the scientific (?) explanations and excuses about this cycle and that one, laws of supply and demand, etc., are bunk and get us nowhere.

If we could only eliminate personal and special interests from our problems, all would be solved; and until we can do that—substitute co-operation for competition—we will never get anywhere and will always have the so-called depression, plunging the world into misery again and again.

Because we have not corrected former ones we now have this, the greatest of the world has seen.

When we learn that every consumer must be a producer, that every consumer must produce what he himself consumes, or its equivalent—no more, no less—then we have advanced toward real progress. And the whole world (not special favorites) will benefit. Anything else is but a makeshift.

M. D. SAMUEL.

A Reply to Bishop Cannon.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
IN THE annual report of the Board of Temperance of the M. E. Church South, the Democratic liquor plank is denounced as a gross insult. The report was drawn up by Bishop James Cannon Jr., and among other things says:

Any attempt by any party platform declaration to bind the members of that party on a moral issue is a distinct invasion of the rights of the individual, and is therefore, not only an indefensible infringement of the rights of conscience, but a gross insult to independent citizenship.

With what show of logic can a dry leader talk about "an indefensible infringement of the rights of conscience," in view of the fact that the entire prohibition movement, with its resulting law enforcement laws, has denied to every citizen the right to follow conscience, and if he tries to exercise that right, sincerely believing that his conscience disapproves of coercion in the matter of what he shall drink, he becomes a criminal and is subject to penalties as severe as if he had maliciously violated his neighbor's rights?

Oratorical Effort.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I AM still in school, but am ambitious to become a speaker. Will you please tell me what you think of the speech I have made up for this campaign and if the Republicans will want me to make it come please?

"Mr. Hoover is a great man; also a great engineer, and he is a fan of the dry and he knows what to do. He fed all the Belgians and kept them from starving. He is a magnetic orator and said: 'Prohibition is a great experiment.' He is a broad and kind-hearted man and therefore tries to suit the dry and the wet both. He always knows just what to do and how and when to do it. He has a keen sense of humor and made a speech about hair shirts and has done lots of things people have thought funny. He also should be elected because he did not cause the depression. He gave Missouri a great honor by putting in his Cabinet a great and good farmer, Mr. Hyde, who, with the Farm Board, has been working day and night to relieve the farms of their surplus (it is wheat and cotton)."

"If we re-elect Hoover and Curtis, we will have two cars in every family and electric machines in every kitchen. Prohibition and all our problems will be quickly done away with and we will have four more untold years of prosperity of unknown heights, as should we not vote for Hoover and Curtis?"

THOMAS ROBINSON.

From the driver only going 20 miles per hour, but who hogs control of the road, Good Lord deliver us.
From the man or woman who makes sharp turns without warning, Good Lord deliver us.
From the smoker who extends his hand to knock off the ash, thus giving a turn signal, Good Lord deliver us.
From the cutter-in at the top of a hill, Good Lord deliver us.

From farmers who dash out of side roads and expect the highway to be vacant, Good Lord deliver us.
From snail men who, stepping from the curb, look neither to the right or left, Good Lord deliver us.
From younger ones who saunter across the road with an I-dare-you-to-bump attitude, Good Lord deliver us.
From hitch hikers and all other evils on the road, Good Lord deliver us.

A CHANCE FOR WORK IN THE COAL FIELDS.

The latest development in the Illinois coal miners' wage situation is the arrival in Springfield of several thousand miners to protest against the new scale approved by their representatives July 9. Encamped at the State capital, they are determined to repudiate the agreement, which is built around a basic scale of $5 and which would supplant the old basic scale of $6.10.

That President John Walker of the Illinois district, United Mine Workers of America, has sent out ballots to various localities of the State for referendum action on the new scale seems to have no effect on the leaders of the protesting sub-districts. Promising that 5000 or 6000 miners would go to Springfield in order to assist in repudiating the agreement, Frank Rose of Zeigler, one of the leaders, has announced, "What we demand is not a decrease but an increase. We want a basic wage of $7 a day."

In all fairness to the men who run the numerous risks of mining coal, we believe that, in view of present conditions and the terms of the new agreement, this protest is ill advised and ill timed. To ask for an increase in wages in a stricken industry such as coal mining is to ask for that which is unobtainable. It would be just as well to ask for the moon. A brief resume of the situation in the Illinois coal fields will bear this out.

The old contract expired last March 31, and 40,000 miners were thrown out of work. Unemployment conditions in Illinois, previously described by Secretary of Commerce Lamont as one of the five worst-hit states, were promptly made worse. Demand for coal became negligible. A summer of idleness, with its far-reaching consequences, loomed ahead.

Meanwhile, negotiations to reach a new wage agreement proved fruitless, and in April the conference of miners and members of the Illinois Coal Operators' Association was abandoned. Two months passed, and conditions in the mining towns became more critical. The lists of persons requiring State aid grew longer. Finally, Gov. Emmerson took a hand. Urging an attitude of give and take, he invited the miners and operators to meet together again, with the definite goal of reopening the mines. The Chicago conference and the new basic scale of $5 resulted.

Since at previous conferences the best offer that the operators would make was a $4 scale, the proposed new scale contains that concession in favor of the miners. Moreover, their demand for a six-hour day was recognized for the first time. With the understanding that it shall be an experiment, the agreement provides that two six-hour shifts may supplant the eight-hour shift. To overlook what the six-hour day can mean to an industry so over-supplied with men as coal mining would be a serious mistake.

It would seem that, under the circumstances, the protesting miners would do better to back up their representatives in the agreement, or at least to go home, and, voting against the agreement if they must, let the majority rule. The important thing is to go back to work if possible, to begin buying again, to begin paying their bills.

If they turn down work when it is offered to them with a six-hour day included, they lay themselves open to the criticism that they do not want work, that they prefer to utilize State aid and to take advantage of a generally bad situation.

Surely, the Illinois coal miners will not run the risk of that.

THE WINES OF TOMORROW.

One of New York's big hotel men is on his way to Europe to obtain options on rare liquors and vintage wines, now priced at a song, so to speak, but which will go bounding up to the blue as soon as we get rid of prohibition. And he thinks that happy day is just around the corner.

A foresighted boniface, all right, but he has somehow overlooked the miracles which our chemists have been performing. Those wizards have so mastered the secrets of yeasts that the element of time, so indispensable to the vintner's art, has been benched forever. They can accomplish in 48 hours the wonders heretofore contrived only by the years.

Our hotel man, for instance, spoke with lingering accents about the "dazzling topaz yeasts," of Chamberlain "alive with fire," of the red of patriarchal Burgundies, and those Medoc clarets from the Gironde. And to many those words will be as vague echoes of a distant Lotus land, as the haunting strains of ancient music silenced by our erratic mores. But all those and all the other incomparables which came to us once upon a time in the foreign speech of fascinating bottles and intriguing labels will be produced out of hand, right here in the United States.

The vineyards of the Genesee Valley grow grapes as purple as to decorate the hillsides of Ardenne, the amber clusters of Kelly's Island are as marvellous as any the Rhine land achieves, and the retrieved deserts of California, condemned by law to raisins and prunes, will return to their former glories. And the scientists in the laboratories will do the rest.

This New York hotel man does not know his country. And France and Germany are doomed to disappointment if they are counting on a market here for their bottled solace. Post-prohibition America will grow her own grapes and make and drink her own wines.

WHEN THE PLAY WAS YOUNG.

It is one of the functions of the Little Theater occasionally to exhibit the play in its earlier and sometimes ancient forms, which is the case with "The Little Clay Cart," playing this week in the outdoor amphitheater of John Burroughs School.

Ascribed to a Hindu King, "The Little Clay Cart" is some 10 centuries older than "The Chalk Circle," which the Little Theater produced last spring. There is nevertheless a great similarity between them. The play was often used then, as now, for moral propaganda. Both the Hindus and the Chinese loved virtue, and when they wrote a play, virtue always triumphed over evil. The villain appears in both these old dramas. Time has lent subtlety and craftiness to his art, but he is the same villain. He is at last handed over to the executioner in "The Chalk Circle," and in "The Little Clay Cart," only pardon saves him from the same fate.

The institution of justice, so we learn in these old plays, has not greatly changed. In the time of "The Little Clay Cart" the fear of the law as a manipulated institution was so widespread in all classes that the fugitive could claim the protection even of his enemy. All the people, whether high or low, had common cause in their distrust of the law and their league against it. In "The Little Clay Cart" we are amused to learn that the thief could safely claim sanctuary from the man he robbed. Curiously, this was not true of Asia alone. It was a custom of the people that prevailed in Europe until after the Renaissance. It is the theme of perhaps the best of all short stories, "The Three Strangers," of Thomas Hardy, and persists in some obvious forms today. The moral is not to make the law a tyrant.

Neither "The Chalk Circle" nor "The Little Clay Cart" rises to the height which Greek drama attained seven centuries before the Hindu play was written. It was the difference in the genius of the peoples. The Hindu and the Chinese plays, particularly the former, are poetic, philosophical and often-times beautiful; but they are far short of the dramatic product of the people whose intellectual equals, in Mr. Gladstone's opinion, have never lived anywhere either before or after.

THE STATE BAR POLL.

Following the lead of the St. Louis Bar Association in past elections, the Missouri Bar Association has conducted a poll among lawyers to determine their choices among the candidates for the State Supreme Court. Three new Judges are to be selected, one to sit in Division No. 1, which handles civil cases, and two for Division No. 2, for criminal cases. Selection of Judges for the latter division is especially important, in that the two new Judges will form a majority.

In recent years, Division No. 2 has followed a policy of disregarding minor defects in trial procedure, reserving reversals for those cases in which a showing of substantial merit has been made. The division was not always noted for this freedom from petty technicalities, and many cases, involving desperate criminals, have been reversed for causes as trivial as failure to dot i's or cross t's. It is exceedingly important that the court's present policy be continued.

While the State Bar Association does not arrogate to itself the right of telling voters how to cast their ballots, it offers its poll for what use voters care to make of it. Albert D. Norton, Republican candidate for Division No. 1, led the poll, and next to him was John T. Fitzsimmons, Democratic candidate for Division No. 2, while Raymond G. Barnett of Kansas City, Republican candidate for Division No. 2, was second choice. Incidentally, no St. Louis man now sits on the court, a condition existing since 1930.

The poll also included balloting on candidates for Court of Appeals, lawyers in each of the three districts being confined to a choice among candidates in their own districts. Republican candidates were unopposed. Edward J. McCullen, Democratic candidate in the St. Louis district, received 583 votes and Joseph Kane 505.

We believe voters rightly will permit themselves to be influenced by the poll, since the lawyers themselves are best equipped to judge men in their own profession. With such a long ballot as we shall have, both in the primaries and in elections this year, voting guides of one kind and another are essential to intelligent selection.

A PERVERSE INDUSTRY.

The recent announcement that Canadian gold production had shown a notable increase in 1931, making Canada for the second consecutive year South Africa's closest rival, suggests some other significant developments in that field.

Gold mining seems to be just naturally contrary. When prosperity comes to others, the gold miners know that dark days are ahead for them; but when business strikes the doldrums, and debtors struggle under crushing burdens, then the gold miners have an era of prosperity.

Under the gold standard, an ounce of gold is always worth $35.47, so when wages and prices rise, gold will buy less; but in times like the present, every ounce goes further in hiring men and buying supplies. Not only do the unemployed begin to pan the creeks when jobs fail them elsewhere, but the big gold mines start working extra shifts and declaring extra dividends.

The high prices of the war and early post-war years brought depression to the gold-mining industry. Many American mines were closed, South African production fell off sharply, and world production fell to less than three-fourths of pre-war figures. After the collapse of prices in 1929, things again began to pick up in gold mining. After a steady upward trend in production, the figures for 1931 almost reached the high of 1915. In March of this year, South African production set a new high.

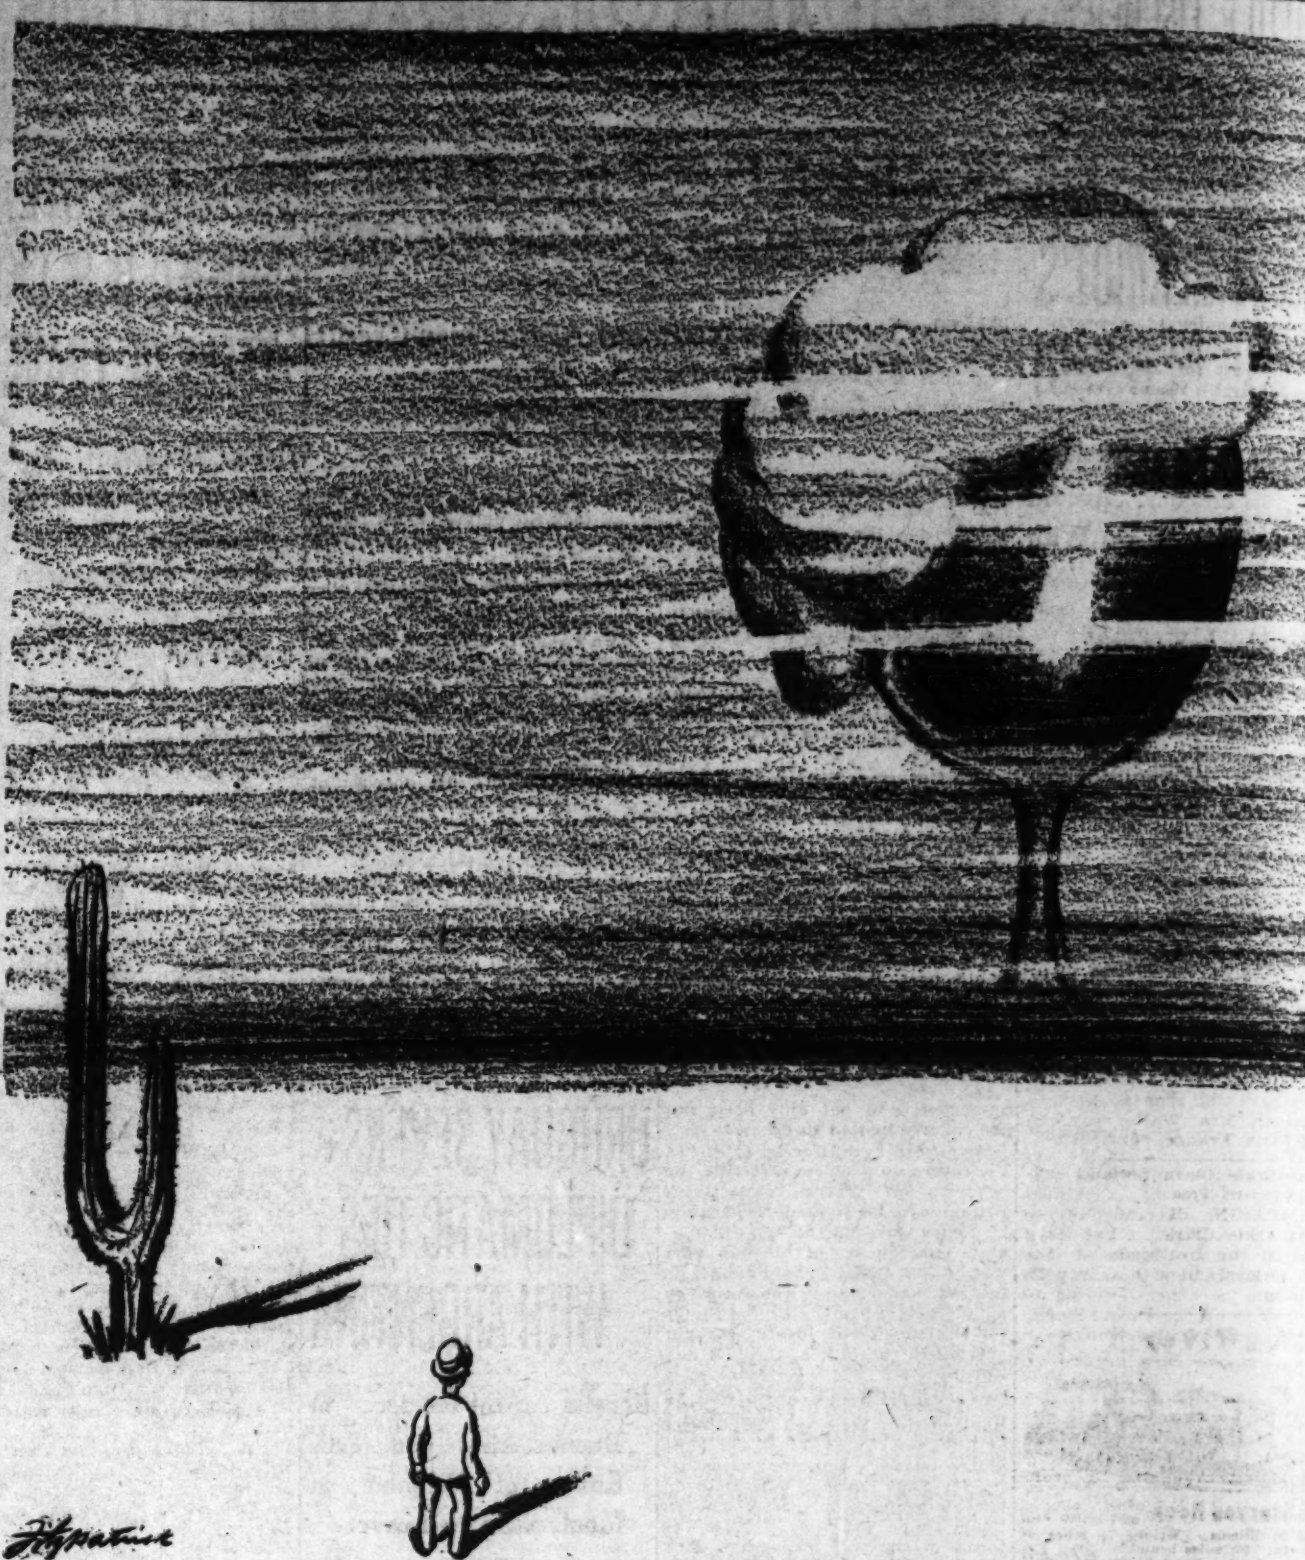

American production, however, has not kept pace with the revival of gold mining in other countries, and our production now is less than half that of 1915. In the decade before the Civil War we were producing over half the world's gold, today barely 10 percent. Yet now, while the historians are preparing to hold a post-mortem over the British Empire, 70 percent of the gold production of the world comes from those dominions on which the sun never sets. To paraphrase Mr. Garner's classic remark, "Gold mining is funny."

OUR ADVENTUROUS LIVES.

Roy Chapman Andrews is one of the topnotch explorers, and he has often encountered danger at close range. He has pursued the whale on the open seas, combed the forbidding wilds of Tibet, spent broiling noons and freezing nights in the Gobi Desert, eluded bandits on the plains of Mongolia. Yet, when the conversation turns to perilous adventures, his contribution is likely to be prosaic, even a bit boring. Like as not, he will tell about the time he was caught in the middle of Fifth avenue, with traffic whirling by on all sides, while his hearers yearn for vicarious thrills about his encounters with the ferocious wild dogs of Mongolia. Those dogs are "more dangerous than tigers," Andrews wrote in a recent article, yet he has no choice between facing a pack of them and crossing a busy city street. Chinese bandits? The gangsters of any American metropolis are far worse. Andrews recalls 20 narrow escapes in 22 years of exploring. And in seven years of city life, he counts at least 10 close shaves from the dangers of automobiles, trains, elevators, subways, planes and other mechanical devices.

The machine age has increased the hazards of everyday life, while the explorer's routine knows more safeguards than ever before. Yet our daily adventures, perilous as any encountered by Ulysses or D'Aragon or Capt. Ahab, though far less exciting, are commonplace in their endless repetition.

The Rev. Eric W. Gilbreth, rector of an Episcopal parish at Glendale, O., says the prohibition plank of both major party platforms are wasteful. After taking a second look at the Democratic plank, it looks more than ever like a hippopotamus

THE MIRAGE.

Pot and Kettle in the Campaign

By Walter Lippmann.

IN this campaign it is going to be easy for the pot to call the kettle black, and, unless all sense of proportion is lost in the American people, they will laugh out of court any orator who comes before them pretending to believe that the opposing party has made all the mistakes. The evident fact is that neither party foresees the world crisis, that neither party correctly interpreted its gravity and its extent and duration, that neither has had a consistent and properly timed policy in meeting it, and that neither has as yet summoned up the courage to propose an adequate program for surmounting it.

Thus it is true, as the Democrats will loudly insist, that the Republicans in 1928 mistook the inflation for prosperity and claimed a magical power to perpetuate it. But it is equally true that no responsible Democrat pointed out that the alleged prosperity was in reality a most dangerous inflation. So on that score the honors are even.

It is true that the Republicans spent the first two years of the depression believing it would soon blow over and that nothing important had to be done about it. But it is equally true that in those same two years the Democrats made no proposal of any importance for doing anything about the depression. So again the honors are even.

It is true that the Democratic Congress has been voting irresponsibly for all kinds of measures, from the bonus to Garner's pork barrel and super-bank, which, if enacted, would seriously impair the national credit. But it is no less true that the Republican administration and Congress did not get around to an effort to protect the national credit until a deficit of four billion dollars had been accumulated. If the honors here are not even, they are certainly mixed.

As to the future, all that can be said is that the Democrats have promised to begin to allow trade to recover, though their actions last winter cast grave doubt on their sincerity, while the Republicans have promised only to erect still higher barriers to trade, and are undoubtedly sincere.

It is not astonishing, then, that Secretary Mills was highly effective in his Boston speech, in fact, that he was unanswerable, when he summarized the record of the Democrats in Congress under Speaker Garner's leadership. That record is indefensible. What defense can be made by Gov. Roosevelt for the votes cast by his chief supporters, by Senator Barkley of Kentucky, Senator Walsh and Wheeler of Montana, Senator Dill of Washington, in favor of what are meant to be prohibitive tariffs on raw materials? What can be said for the Democrats on the bonus or for Speaker Garner's pork barrel or for his super-bank? Nothing.

Senator Wagner did his loyal best the other day to stand by his candidate for Vice-President, and the best he could do was to point out that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had the power to refuse to carry out Mr. Garner's promises. This amounted to saying that the Garner bill ought to be passed and then nullified by administrative action.

The Democratic record in Congress cannot be explained and cannot be justified. All that can be done about it is to point out that the convention adopted a platform which repudiates this record at every vital point, and then to ask the country to believe that Gov. Roosevelt will lead his party in accordance with the platform instead of being led by Mr. Garner and his friends. But Secretary Mills is greatly mistaken if he thinks that Mr. Garner's record in this Congress makes all things perfect in the Republican record. When he challenges Gov. Roosevelt "instead of indulging in vague and unsupported attacks, to state specifically what the present administration has failed to do or has done in this emergency that is open to fair criticism," Mr. Mills is bold but imprudent. It may be, of course, that Gov. Roosevelt will be tongue-tied by his association with Messrs. Garner, Harter, McAdoo, but even if he is free to talk, he will have no difficulty in taking up the challenge.

The first thing the Republicans did in this emergency that is open to fair criticism was to insure a deficit by reducing taxes and increasing expenditures at the beginning of the depression. The second thing they did, benevolently but unwisely, was to advise the country not to adjust prices and costs to a lower price level. The third thing they did was to waste vast sums of public money in a great gamble to maintain agricultural prices. The fourth thing they did was to raise the tariff at a moment when trade was rapidly declining. The fifth thing they did was to pile up a deficit of nearly a billion in 1931 and do nothing about it, to pile up a deficit of three billions in 1932 and do nothing about it until the very last moment fixed by the Constitution for the assembling of Congress. The sixth thing they did was to propose a tax program that was wholly inadequate and economies that were and are wholly insufficient to balance the budget unless there is a sudden and miraculous recovery.

The claim that the Hoover administration has been a consistent upholder of sound economic principles and of sound government finance will not stand scrutiny. The best that can be said for the administration is that at the end of the third winter of the depression it reluctantly abandoned the economic theories of the new era, and that gradually, though as yet by no means wholeheartedly or courageously, it became convinced that the national credit, preserved by a budget balanced through economy and taxation, was important.

Mr. Hoover is a very recent convert to the orthodox principles he now champions. He did not hold them last summer. He did not begin to hold them until late in the autumn. He did not seriously begin to champion them until mid-winter, and anyone who will read his platform will have serious doubts whether or not he is prepared to take the political risks which really drastic economy calls for.

As respects the past, the Republicans have to live down their record up to the last mid-winter, and the Democrats have to live down their record up to last week. Both have promised to be intelligent in the future, and in the fulfillment of their promises the Republicans are, in regard to public finance, about half a lap ahead of the Democrats. On the larger matters of public policy which affect the reconstruction of the world's economic system, on such questions as the restoration of world credit and the arrest of the deflation, on the restoration of confidence through liquidation of the war, on the erection of a stable system of trade, money and political relations, both parties are in the grip of deep-rooted popular prejudices.

If both stand where they are now, if neither candidate exhibits the understanding and the courage to lead the people out of the

Is a Rail Czar Needed?

From Barron's Financial Weekly.

THE pooling of competitive passenger and freight service in order to effect savings running into millions of dollars a year continues to be under active discussion in railroad circles. Representatives of the 31 large Western roads have been holding conferences on the matter, and are understood to have considered making offers to various leaders in the industry to act as high commissioner, with dictatorial powers, to remedy the uneconomical practices in the industry.

Pool competitive freight and passenger business wherever feasible and in accordance with Interstate Commerce Commission Act of 1936.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

MRS. JOHN MORRISON-FULLER of the Senate apartments and her close friend, Mrs. Evelyn Penny, who have been in Europe for several months, are now in Paris after several weeks in Montreux, Switzerland. They are planning to go to one of the European seashore resorts for the remainder of the summer. Mrs. Morrison-Fuller will return home in September.

Her daughter, Mrs. Fuller Connel has an apartment in San Francisco with Dr. Ina M. Richter and will leave there soon with Dr. Richter for a ranch near Santa Barbara, Cal., where they will spend part of the summer.

Miss Ada Winston of Hotel Kings-Way arrived in San Francisco a week ago from Mackay, Tex., where she spent the winter with her cousin, Mrs. Borden, on the Borden ranch. She will be in California for the remainder of the summer.

Mrs. Borden's sister, Miss Eleanor Hough, 470 Lake avenue, departed a few days ago for Mackay to be her guest for a month, after which she will return to St. Louis to prepare for a trip to Ogunquit, Me. Miss Hough will visit Miss Judith Oliver, daughter of Mr. Fielding W. Oliver, 502 Lake avenue, at their Ogunquit cottage.

A luncheon for 15 guests was given today by Miss Matilda Craven, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Craven, 5227 Westminster place, complimenting Miss Elizabeth Windell, Louisville, Ky., who is the summer visitor of Miss Lila Marshall Childress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Wade Childress, Clayton and McKnight roads. Miss Craven and Miss Childress recently returned from Louisville, bringing Miss Windell home with them.

Tonight Miss Ruth Deibel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Deibel, 7128 Washington boulevard, will give a dinner for the visitor on the roof garden of Hotel Chase.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Whittemore plan to leave St. Louis Friday to spend two weeks in Pentwater, Mich. They have rented their apartment at 4933 Buckingham Court, and for the summer are with Mrs. Whittemore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis A. Hallett, 59 Kingsbury place.

Mrs. Whittemore's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hallett Jr., have just returned from Pentwater, and her grandmother, Mrs. Elissa G. Scudder, and her sister, Miss Alice Hallett, are at the Scudder home in Hyannisport, Mass.

Mrs. Dorothy Stewart Good and her young son, Meyervell Locke Good Jr., will return this evening from Muskoka Lake, Canada, where they have been for several weeks. Mrs. Good and her son make their home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alice Stewart, 5646 Kingsbury boulevard.

A group of prominent St. Louisans is spending the summer in Hot Springs, Va. Miss May Foster is at the Homestead with Mrs. Robert Filley. Mrs. John David Mulvane of New York, whose daughter, Miss Katherine Mulvane, was married in April to Edward Pierce Maffitt, is also at the Homestead. Mr. and Mrs. Maffitt have been in Washington since their marriage, and Mr. Maffitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Skinner Maffitt, 4520 West Pine boulevard, are planning to go East to join them later in the summer.

Mrs. Robert A. B. Walsh, 24 Portland place, is in Hot Springs as the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. William Maffitt of St. Louis, at her cottage.

Albert W. Niedringhaus, 4937 Pershing avenue, and his son, Delaford Niedringhaus, will motor to Wequetonsing, Mich., the last of this month to join Mrs. Niedringhaus at their cottage.

Mrs. Edward Limberg, 4937 Laclede avenue, with her sons, Edward Jr. and Charles Foster Limberg, are visiting her aunt, Mrs. William H. Barnett, 372 Walton avenue, at the Barnett cottage.

Nearby is the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Eaton, 80 Vandeventer place, where Mr. and Mrs. Eaton, their daughters, Miss Emily and Mrs. Mary Eaton Spivy, and her children, are spending the summer.

The Wequetonsing (Mich.) cottage of Miss Clara and Miss Louise Leete will be occupied this summer by Dr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Mudd, 47 Vandeventer place, and their grandchildren, the children of their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Stuart Mudd. Dr. and Mrs. Mudd plan to motor north next week and will be joined there by the children. Dr. and Mrs. Stuart Mudd will spend the summer in Europe and Dr. Mudd will attend meetings of scientists in Rome and Vienna.

The Misses Leete, who have lived at Hotel Kings-Way for several years, have built a home on the Ladue road.

The wedding of Miss Lois Stocking, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lyman C. Stocking, 5890 Julian avenue, and Herman Miller Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. J. Hoffman of Terre Haute, Ind., took place Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the West Presbyterian Church. Dr. William B. Lampe officiating. A supper for the bridal party and the immediate families followed at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin and a tulle veil. She carried white roses and lilies of the valley. The bride's sister, Mrs. F. R. Hassler, was matron of honor, and wore a gown of French blue lace. Miss Hester Hoffman, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid and was crowned in peach-colored lace. Both the bride's attendants wore hats matching their gowns and carried bouquets of delphinium and Joanna Hill roses.

James Watson was best man, and member by about 150 trained members of the Ukrainian colony in St. Louis. THOMPSON'S DOUBLE MALTED!

Many children need something to build them up. If your youngsters are inclined to be peaked and underweight—give them Thompson's Chocolate Malted Milk. It's double malted. It's one of the greatest body-builders a child can get!

For Thompson's betters the known healthfulness of malted milk. Made from whole, rich milk—with all the wholesome country cream left in. That's important! For it means that Thompson's is unusually rich in butter fat.

Contains important vitamins, too. And remember this—Thompson's is double malted. Double malting makes Thompson's doubly helpful to digestion. And it's doubly delicious because of its double malt flavor. Even kids who don't like milk are crazy about it.

Start today to give your youngsters Thompson's every day—and watch them pick up and thrive! Get Thompson's at grocers' or druggists' in handy home packages.

NEW DEVICE FOR SAFETY OF AIRPLANE PASSENGERS

An invention of Harvey P. Trusty of Los Angeles, makes it possible for a pilot to pull a lever to open a door in the fuselage. A revolving seat inside then slides out into space and starts to fall. As descent begins, a parachute attached to the seat top comes into action. The passenger, of course, is strapped into his seat all the time. The photo on right shows an actual test of the catapult seat.
